Armory Bulging With Autos of All Kinds at Biggest Show

New Dealers, Special Jobs and an Armory Decorated as Never Before Conspire With Fine Weather to Make Unusually Attractive Opening Day.

The Kingston Automobile show which opened this afternoon at the armory under the auspices of the Automotive Dealers of Kingston is without a doubt the biggest and best show ever put on in a city the size of Kingston. Only the limited space at the armory prevents the show being much bigger. The show will be continued tomorrow and Saturday, remaining open each evening until 10:30 o'clock. Each afternoon beginning at 2:30 o'clock there will be a musical program by the Imperial orchestra and the orchestra will also be present in the evening from 7:30 until 10:30 and give a concert.

One of the features of the show this year is the unusual number of closed cars shown.

On account of the unusual number of models of open and closed cars and the limited space at the armory it has been impossible for the dealers to show a complete line of models on any one chassis so that many of the dealers have augmented their exhibits at the show with special exhibits at their show rooms where those interested may examine the particular model in which they are interested if it is not on exhibition at the show. The number of cars shown at the armory this year is larger than ever before. Every available inch of space has been used for the display of cars and accessories.

Returning once more to pre-war prices the motor car manufacturer is anticipating one of the biggest years in the history of the business and judging from the cars shown at the Kingston automobile show it will not be necessary to go out of town to select a car for any person or any pocketbook.

A number of new makes are being exhibited which will stand the closest inspection of the motorists while many of the old companies are putting out new cars or at least new body designs on the old chassis. Beside the change in body design there are a number of minor changes in design which lend to economy and comfort. The light weight car is being featured. Many of the old time companies are turning their attention to a light weight model in order to round out their line and manufacture a car for all classes of buyer.

Among the cars exhibited are the models of the various makes are: Uster Garage, two Cadillac cars, a five passenger coupe and one of the eight cylinder open cars or phaetons. The Uster Garage in addition to these two models of Cadillac are staging a special exhibit of Nash cars at their show rooms on Fair street.

The Senate Garage, J. D. and S. J. Van Kleeck, proprietors, has an exhibit of four and six cylinder Durant cars. The Durant is a newcomer and attracts a great deal of attention. A special four cylinder touring car, a four cylinder coupe, a four cylinder sedan and a six cylinder touring car together with a four cylinder chassis makes up their exhibit. The six cylinder Durant has just been received by the Messrs. Van Kleeck and on account of lack of space the six cylinder roadster, sedan or coupe will not be shown at the armory. The Durant Six touring car is a stock job although it greatly resembles a special job. The car is upholstered with brown Spanish grain leather, the body is a deep maroon and the fenders and running gear are black. This car is equipped with the famous Ansted engine which holds the Pike's Peak hill climb record, having been made with a Lexington car equipped with an Ansted engine. Although a low or medium priced car the closed Durants are fitted out with many high priced car conveniences such as method of opening and closing windows, interior side lights, cord tires on all models. The cars are all fitted out with full walnut steering wheels, a 5 1/2 foot muffler which lends to quietness, and the new barrel headlights. A feature of the car is the tubular backbone which it is claimed goes a great way toward eliminating body and chassis trouble. The Messrs. Van Kleeck carry a full line of repair parts in stock for all models.

The Brown Auto Supply Company, which in addition to their automobile accessory exhibit, has an exhibit of Elgin Six cars. Two models are shown. A regular touring car and a special Elgin Six roadster. This roadster presents a very pleasing appearance. Mounted on a six cylinder chassis is a roadster body, painted a brilliant yellow with black running gear and fenders.

Stutler, Inc., exhibits the most expensive car shown at the armory, a Packard Twin-six Fleetwood roadster. This car is a special job painted a brilliant green with yellow wheels. On the rear deck of the car are two rumble seats which fold into the deck when not in use. In addition to this handsome roadster are shown a Packard Single-Six sedan and a Single-Six standard touring car.

John Van Benschoten, Inc., shows a Dodge special sedan and a regular model five passenger touring car of the same make.

The Van Motor Company displays two makes, Studebaker and Marmon. A light-six roadster and touring car, a Studebaker Special-Six five passenger car and a Big-Six Studebaker seven passenger car completes the Studebaker line and in addition a Marmon touring car are shown.

James Millard & Son Company, local distributors for the Universal car shows a new one this year, the new Henry Ford built Lincoln. The Messrs. Millard show a Ford sedan and coupe and a Lincoln touring car. The Lincoln attracts considerable attention, it having been recently taken over by Mr. Ford who is offering it to the public through all of his regular Ford dealers.

The Shuyesant Garage shows three makes, an Oldsmobile four cylinder five passenger car, a Hupmobile touring car, a Hupmobile roadster-coupe, a very pretty Hupmobile sedan painted a deep red with black running gear and fenders, a Maxwell sedan and touring car and an Oldsmobile sedan.

Southard & Beichert, Inc., newcomers in the automobile business, show two models of the Liberty-Six. A regular five passenger touring car is shown and a special job. The special job is done up in blue with black running gear, disc wheels and presents a very striking appearance. Forsyth & Davis have a new color to the Kingston auto show, a grey Roamer touring car, trimmed with nickel and equipped with white wire wheels. The car has low sweeping lines and is one of the first cars which catches the eye as you enter the big drill shed. It is one of the prettiest cars at the show. Beside the Roamer the same firm displays a Franklin sedan, a Chevrolet 490 touring car and sedan, a big Chevrolet and a Columbia 4.

The George J. Schryver Motor Car Company has a Willys-Knight sedan and touring car, an Overland sedan and a Haynes sedan in the regular models with a special Haynes sport model car. The sport model is done up in green with nickel trimmings and green Spanish leather upholstery. The car has the three quarter running boards and is equipped with two spare wire wheels, one on either side of the car just forward the front doors. The car is equipped with a trunk in the rear and with the green body and black running gear and fenders presents a nice appearance.

The Central Garage, O. M. Kennedy proprietor, shows only the Reo car. A sedan, touring car and a coupe are shown along with a Reo coupe in rough. This shows a Reo coupe, partly finished and shows the body and the aluminum construction. The interior shows how a closed Reo job looks before the upholstery is put on and gives an idea of the wood used and the construction of the wood work.

Peter A. Black, Hudson and Essex distributor, and Black & McGrath, distributors for the Buick, have another fine exhibit. An Essex touring car and Essex coupe are shown. A Hudson coach and a Hudson speedster complete Mr. Black's line. The Hudson speedster is shown with red wheels and a hair-line stripe of the same color on the blue body. The Buick display includes a touring car and one of the Buick Special-54 roadsters. This job is standard entirely and is completely equipped for delivery. The roadster is painted a deep red with wire wheels, trimmed with nickel and has black fenders. Although this car has the appearance of a special job, it is standard in every way. The car is slightly larger than the usual model of the Buick car and was only recently put on the market. This is the first time it has been shown in Kingston. Many early attendants at the show were of the opinion that it was the handsomest appearing car at the show.

The Broadway Garage shows a Cleveland touring car, a Cleveland sedan, a Dort touring car, a Chandler sedan and a Chandler sport model.

Beside the automobiles exhibited at the show there are the accessory exhibits.

The Brown Tire Company has an exhibit of tires. M. H. Herzog has a display of accessories. The Brown Auto Supply Company has a display of accessories. The L. S. Winne Company shows accessories. James Austin has tires. Frank Brown, Willard batteries. Carl Miller & Son, Westinghouse batteries and a water system for country places. Merritt & Cook have a booth for insurance. The Haviland Auto Top Company shows auto tops and auto repairs. Ary Bush has a display of auto tops. The Kingston Rope and Cable Company, exhibit of tow ropes. There is also an exhibit of the Faurot thief proof equipment for cars and a collapsible rim exhibit. The Automobile Club of Ulster County also has a booth. The Vanderlyn Battery Company, agents for the Exide battery, also have an exhibit and the Eagle Garage has a booth.

John Mack of the Eagle Garage has attempted to steal all of the talk of the show for his booth. The garage

BUSHKILL BAND WILL BE THERE

Problem of Getting The Cornstalk Fiddle Into Town Is Solved And Original Music Is Now Assured.

At the eleventh hour John D. Van Kleeck has been able to get together all of the members of the Bushkill Sheepskin Band and has secured their services to play at the Automobile Show which opened today at the armory. The band will be in attendance at the show all three days and will render their own original music. Some difficulty arose as to how to transport the band to town but that problem was finally solved and the band will be present. It was first decided to bring the musicians to Kingston in one of the big auto busses but it was found that the original cornstalk fiddle which Mr. Van Kleeck played while a member of the band was too long to get into the bus without hindering the fiddler's delicate movements while playing and so one of the members of the Automotive Dealers' Association came to the rescue and furnished an open truck which will be used. A har-trick was the favorite of the members of the Bushkill Sheepskin Band but as they were to play for an automobile show it was deemed improper to appear in Kingston behind a horse and an automobile was finally decided upon as the only vehicle which could be properly used.

The band will be stationed in the balcony of the armory so as not to interfere with the exhibits and to be well out of the way of the hot air which will surround the salesman as they explain the fine points of their respective cars and which might warp and injure the delicate instruments of the Bushkill musicians.

The show is well worth while seeing but the band is going to be one of the attractions. Whether Mr. Van Kleeck will be too busy selling Durant cars to personally lead the band is not known. At any rate the band will be there.

A Murray Street Fire. An alarm of fire from Box 44, Hasbrouck avenue and Murray street, Wednesday evening at 10:45 o'clock called the fire department to a vacant house at No. 67 Murray street, where a small fire was found and extinguished. The damage was slight. The house had been vacated at 9 o'clock that evening by the family of Martin Grabie, and Chief Chipp was of the opinion that one of the movers had thrown a lighted cigarette down in the house which had caused the fire.

Hoch Sells To Nathan. Julius Hoch who for some time has conducted the Fashion Shop, corner of Wall and John streets in the Clermont Hall building, has sold out his interests to A. M. Nathan, Inc., the well known millinery shop proprietor of Poughkeepsie. Mr. Nathan will open Saturday with a full line of high grade millinery.

Big Reo Order. The Hartford Insurance Company of Hartford, Conn., recently placed an order with the Hartford distributor of the Reo automobile for 350 Reo business men's coupes. The cars will be used in the company's business.

With a conscience? has secured Joseph A. McNelis & Company's Radio set and will receive radio concerts at the show over the wireless telephone. The radio set is being demonstrated as operated with a Ray battery for which the Eagle Garage had the agency. Beside the Ray battery and the radio there will be other exhibits at the Eagle booth. When the radio concert begins there will undoubtedly be a large number of people at the Eagle booth listening with ear to the radio concert while Mr. Mack talks Ray battery into the other ear.

Taken all in all the display this year is much better than at any previous show held in Kingston. More models are being shown and there are a number of special show jobs and also a few new comers in the auto field which will be of interest to prospective purchasers of cars. To buy a car this season and not come and look over all of the cars collected under one roof and comparing them before purchasing would certainly be a mistake on the part of any purchaser.

The armory has been decorated as never before. A new system of lighting has been installed giving a brilliant but pleasing light. From the large basket lights in the roof hang streamers of varied color paper. Lower down are hung a special row of lights from which varied colored streamers flow. These streamers were cut and arranged through the courtesy of Miss Whitebeck of Forsyth & Davis's store who was assisted by several other ladies. The flags which hang from one end of the long drill shed to the other were contributed through the courtesy of Capt. Fowler and Mr. Johnson.

In place of the signs used last year handsome new signs have been used. These signs in raised gold letters on a ground of flat maroon framed in antique gold frames present a very attractive appearance and can readily be seen and give the name of each car on display. The signs are suspended from the roof at a proper height to be readily seen.

LODGE PREDICTS TREATY'S PASSAGE

By Telegraph to The Freeman. Washington, March 23.—The four-power Pacific treaty will be ratified tomorrow with the Brandegee proviso that it does not bind the United States to an alliance with Great Britain, France and Japan.

This unqualified prediction was made today by Senators Henry Cabot Lodge and Oscar W. Underwood. "The treaty will be ratified. It is all over but the shouting," said Senator Lodge.

Senator Underwood expressed complete confidence in his ability to hold enough of his Democratic colleagues in line to clinch the victory for the administration which the president has been definitely assured by both Lodge and Underwood, to be certain.

The opponents of the treaty were still fighting to win over the two or three votes which they claimed were all they lacked to muster the thirty three necessary to block ratification. It was admitted by their leaders however, that there was only a "bare prospect" of their succeeding.

The Lodge-Underwood prediction was said to be the result of a careful eleventh-hour canvass of the senate, which disclosed no material change in the line-up on either the Republican or Democratic side.

Ratification was found by their canvass to be certain by a small margin over the necessary two-thirds, it was stated.

Senators who have been absent during the oratorical outbursts of the past few days, began returning today in anticipation of the final vote on the treaty tomorrow. There were indications that Senator Crow, Republican, of Pennsylvania, would enjoy, on account of his continued illness, the distinction of being the only absentee when the roll is called.

The expected presence of 93 of the 96 senators constituting the membership of the upper chamber, would be to the advantage of the administration forces.

Adoption of the Brandegee "no alliance" reservation, despite the opposition of a number of administration senators to it, was predicted by a "safe majority." Without its adoption, it was conceded by Republican leaders, ratification might be imperilled, and that was reported to be the chief reason for President Harding's reluctant acceptance of it.

So confident was Lodge of ratification, that he planned to take the naval limitation treaty up on Saturday.

EIGHT SIGN BOND FOR ROBERTSON

By Telegraph to The Freeman. Oklahoma, Okla., March 23.—Gov. J. B. A. Robertson was back in Oklahoma City today after his trip to Okmulgee, where he submitted to arrest on a charge of having accepted a bribe.

The governor said he had no statement to make in regard to his arrest, other than that he had turned his case over to his attorneys and would abide by their advice. He added that the finding of the indictment against him was not a surprise.

Eight men signed the bond for $5,000 on which the governor was released. Governor Robertson is charged along with Fred G. Dennis, former state bank commissioner, with having accepted a bribe of $25,000 to permit operation of the Guaranty State Bank when it was in an insolvent condition.

Dennis, who was also indicted, has not been located. Sheriff Sowers expected to serve additional warrants today on persons named in the indictments handed down by the grand jury.

Cashin Joins City Gas War. Wednesday morning gasoline dealers in Kingston who had been selling gas for 27 cents a gallon lopped two cents off the price. This morning Edward R. Cashin, the Strand dealer, lopped the price still further and is now selling gas for 22 cents a gallon.

It now looks as though Kingston is in for a gas war with the opening of spring auto traffic, but the average auto owner is only sitting back enjoying the show with a wide grin on his face for the more furious waxes the conflict the more it benefits his pocketbook.

Colonials Meet Tonight. The Colonials will meet this evening with Judge Schirick at the city hall to talk over plans for the coming season. Now that daylight saving seems assured this summer the locals will be able to stage Wednesday afternoon games as planned. There are several important matters to come up at the meeting tonight and all the members are urged to be present.

Pitcher Miller Sprains Arm. Eddie Miller, better known as "Reds", star twirler of the Poughkeepsie high school baseball squad, sprained his arm in early workout, and a physician has advised him to retire from baseball this season. Twirler Baker may take his place as the star of the Bridge City Aggregators.

Mrs. Boker Sells Land. Mrs. Kathryn D. Boker as administratrix of the estate of the late Hewitt Boker has sold 50 acres of land in the town of Olive, to J. C. Oaks of New York City.

YEGGMEN ROB PHILMONT BANK

By Telegraph to The Freeman. Hudson, N. Y., March 23.—Yeggmen early this morning blew open the vault in the First National Bank at Philmont, nine miles from here, escaped with negotiable securities worth $75,000, but overlooked a box containing $32,000 in cash.

It is believed the robbers were scared away before they had finished the job. The robbery was discovered by the janitor at 5 o'clock this morning. The vault door had been blown from its hinges. Entrance to the bank was forced through a rear window.

Two boys returning from a party told the police today that they had seen a limousine and two strange men near the bank shortly after midnight.

MONDAY CLUB AT "TB" HOSPITAL

The March entertainment at the Tuberculosis Hospital was in charge of the Monday Club. Mrs. Higginson and Mrs. W. M. Davis, the committee in charge. They secured Harry P. Dodge to arrange the program, and last evening the entertainment was given at the hospital to the immense satisfaction of the patients who enjoyed every minute of it. All of those participating in the program gave their services. There were piano solos by Mr. Dodge who also accompanied the two other performers. Mrs. Carter of the high school faculty sang several selections and also gave readings in such a manner as to charm her hearers. The three very delightful violin solos by Maurice Baker, also of the high school, though not of the faculty, after the enthusiastically applauded program the club members had provided ice cream and delicious home made cake. Thanks to Mr. Burgevin still another pleasure was in store for the patients this morning as he sent several dozen exquisite carnations to be distributed with the new day. Altogether it was a very happy occasion.

FEW KIWANIS PLAY HOOKEY

An attendance of 58 rewarded Captains Baltz and Dillux at the weekly meeting of the Kiwanis Club at the Y. M. C. A. today. This is the highest figure yet reached in the attendance contest which ends May 11.

Mrs. George F. Rice, president of the Kingston Federation of Women's Clubs, was the speaker. She said that the project on which the Kiwanis Club desired information—the proposed community house—had not advanced far enough so that much could be said about it. The Federation was looking this year for a way in which it could carry out its civic duty under its constitution and felt that the best way was to render some service to the young women and girls of the city, but it had decided on nothing definite. She described the Federation as made up of seven literary clubs and individual members, with a threefold aim, philanthropic, educational and civic.

President Roy Sulliff and John P. Mack were elected to represent the club at the Toronto convention in June, and several others will make the trip.

Ray Thompson was introduced as a new member. "The Boston Symphony Orchestra" rendered a program out in the hall and a swarthy gentleman who might easily have been an "organ grinder," came in and collected enough to pay the orchestra's expenses the rest of the way to wherever it was going.

Ladies' night occurs April 6, with the Newburgh Kiwanis Club as guests.

Mr. H. H. Herzog of the new Kingston Oil Company and John Van Kleeck were among today's guests.

CARPENTER ATTORNEY IN STOCK BROKER CASE

Oliver P. Carpenter of New York City, formerly of Kingston, figures prominently as one of the attorneys for creditors of E. D. Dier & Company, New York stock brokers, who are now in bankruptcy. The attorneys for the creditors intend to make a demand on the trustee of the bankrupt firm for immediate action in the United States district court to recover upward of $25,000,000 from various individuals, basing their demand on testimony already adduced before the trustee of the bankruptcy. The attorneys have called a meeting of all creditors of the bankrupt firm to be held on March 29. According to books of the brokers, a former $50 a week clerk received securities worth over a million dollars and the brokerage firm received from him $794,000. When asked if he knew that the books of the firm showed such transactions, the former clerk is reported to have replied "Well, if they do, I am not responsible for their books. I should say that it was damn fool bookkeeping."

Durant For Creek Locks. William D. Ryan, salesman for the Senate Garage has sold to Frank Sheely of Creek Locks one of the new Durant, model 948, Star Four.

STRIKE OPERATORS' FAULT, SAYS LEWIS

By Telegraph to The Freeman. New York, March 23.—John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers of America, today attacked the coal operators on the ground that their "repudiation of pledged agreements bordered on dishonesty."

He declared that the national strike of 600,000 coal miners in both the anthracite and bituminous fields, would be a fight to the finish.

"We are prepared to go through with our strike plans conscious that the responsibility for the struggle lies with the operators, whose arbitrary attitude and repudiation of pledged agreements borders on dishonesty," President Lewis told the International News Service. "There are no developments either in the hard or soft coal situation. I wish to say that I am delighted to know that we will have the support of the American Federation Labor. This support was assured us last night. This greatly strengthens our hands in the battle that is coming."

President Lewis was asked about the report that President Harding may take steps to avert the strike. "I cannot make any comment upon that subject for I know nothing about it," said Lewis. "I have not been approached by any representative of the government and I know nothing personally."

Mr. Lewis said he was going to Cleveland, Ohio, tonight. A meeting of miners' officials will be held there to make final arrangements for the walkout.

Two meetings were held here. One was a conference of the heads of the three district locals in the Pennsylvania anthracite fields and the other was a meeting of four representatives of the anthracite operators and the sub-committee of the miners' scale committee.

The first meeting was short and comparatively unimportant. Plans for the strike of 150,000 anthracite miners were discussed. The second meeting was a continuation of that of yesterday afternoon. It was declared that nothing would be done in either meeting to affect the general strike situation.

At the Brandegee Hospital. The Leo V. Grogan Ambulance conveyed Peter Levan from Bushville to the Brandegee Hospital Wednesday afternoon.

LINSON SEEKS TO RECOVER JOB

As Assistant Secretary of Public Works Board—Through His Attorneys Will Mandamus Board to Reinstall Him—Papers Served on Mayor Crane.

John J. Linson, through his attorneys, William D. and William D. Brininger, Jr., has notified Mayor Walter P. Crane that he has made application for a mandamus order to reinstate him in his former position as assistant secretary of the board of public works. Mayor Crane has turned the papers over to Corporation Counsel Walter N. Gill.

According to the notice served on Mayor Crane an application will be made at the special term of supreme court to be held at the court house on April 1, for a peremptory mandamus order directing the board of public works to reinstate Mr. Linson in his former position of assistant secretary. The position of assistant secretary to the board is now held by Simon Wachschell.

Mr. Linson in his petition states that on January 1, 1916, when the board of public works was first organized under the amended city charter creating the board, that he was elected assistant secretary, and was "re-elected and re-appointed from year to year at the annual meetings of said board held on January 1 of each year."

"That on January 2, 1922, the board held its regular annual meeting at the city hall. That the members of the board at that time were as follows: Walter P. Crane, Samuel M. Waits, David Burgevin, Alva S. Staples and Seligman Oppenheimer. That all of said members were present and petitioner was also present. That at said meeting a resolution was duly made, seconded and passed re-electing and re-appointing petitioner to the position of assistant secretary of the board for one year and for the year 1922, and until January 1, 1923, at the yearly salary of $2,000 payable semi-monthly. That a copy of the minutes of the said meeting are hereto annexed, marked 'A' and made a part hereof. That hereto annexed and marked 'B' is a copy of the minutes of the meeting of the board held on February 17, 1922."

"That in February, 1922, Samuel M. Waits, David Burgevin and Alva S. Staples resigned as members of the board and Walter P. Crane appointed as members thereof in their place, Frank B. Matthews, William H. Van Eten and John Hiltbrant, who qualified and are now acting in such capacity.

"That the petitioner faithfully and fully performed the duties of said position and employment and uninterruptedly continued to do so during the said years prior to January 1, 1922, and from the latter date until the last day of March, 1922. That since March 1, 1922, petitioner has reported to the office of the board each day for work at the usual and regular time and has been informed that there is nothing for him to do.

"That at an executive meeting of the board held on or about February 17, 1922, a motion was passed or purported to have been passed appointing one Simon Winchell in the position and place held by the petitioner and petitioner was so informed by Walter P. Crane, whose appointment petitioner alleges was and is improper and illegal and in violation of his employment and was without power or authority so to do."

Mr. Linson further sets forth in his petition that the position has not been abolished and that he has not been guilty of any misconduct or incompetence in connection with the position and that he is duly entitled to be reinstated and reinstated in said position.

He also states that he has duly requested the board to restore and reinstate him to the position but said request has been ignored. Annexed to the papers is a copy of the minutes of the meeting, which were published in The Freeman at the time the meeting was held.

Ghost Runs Sewing Machine.

They say that headless horsemen used to ride through England and that hounds even now fly above the rain-drenched mountain tops of Ireland; but it is modernizing ghosts to bring a phantom sewing machine into the circle of the supernatural. Scientists, philosophers and spiritualists of Portugal are trying to explain the origin of a strange sound first heard three months ago in a house in Oporto. The sound occurred at midnight and those who heard it, believe that it is caused by the soul of a seamstress, doomed to haunt the world to expiate a sin. The opinion here will rather be that one of the enterprising agents for a sewing machine company is seeking free publicity.

Good Company.

Fancy stepping into a room and finding it full of Shakespeare's principal characters! What a babel of tongues! What a jostling of wits! How eagerly one's eye would go in search of Hamlet and Sir John Falstaff. . . . We should have no difficulty in recognizing Beatrice in the central figure of that lively group of laughing courtiers; whilst did we seek Juliet, it would, of course, be by appointment on the balcony. To fancy yourself in such company is pleasant matter for a midsummer night's dream.—"Obiter Dicta," A. Birrell.

PORT EWEN.

Port Ewen, March 23.—Henry Neher of Bayard street has purchased a Chandler seven passenger touring car to be used in his omnibus business.

Patrick Kane has had the interior of his house on Broadway decorated. H. H. Vincent, painter and decorator, did the work.

Mrs. Norman Ayers and daughter, Miss Mabel Shoemaker, and Mrs. Martha Neal and daughter, Miss Mary Neal, of Kingston attended the conference supper in the chapel of the M. E. Church on Wednesday evening.

Egbert Elsworth of Green street, who has been ill of grip, is improving under the care of Dr. Sibbey of Kingston.

The annual conference supper of the Ladies' Aid Society of the M. E. Church was held Wednesday evening in the chapel. There was a large attendance at the supper by home people and out of town people and was very much enjoyed, as these ladies have the reputation of serving such good appetizing suppers. The entertainment given in the auditorium of the church was well attended and enjoyed. The reports were given by the chairmen of the Divisions for their year's work. Chairman of Division No. 1, Mrs. Lucie Bishop, the amount raised $250. Chairman of Division No. 2, Mrs. Lillian Smith, the amount raised $211. Total amount for the year, $461. Surely this is a grand showing by these faithful women, who show by their labors their wonderful results. Too much praise cannot be given these ladies for their untiring efforts in this wonderful work.

There will be a meeting of the Dorcas Society Friday evening to be held in the Sunday school room. Mrs. John Groves and Mrs. Edward Hotelling will be the hostesses of the evening.

All teams of the Reformed Church every member canvass who have not completed their list are asked to kindly do so, and report after the evening service Sunday, so that the envelopes may be distributed promptly.

Siberia's Wealth of Wild Flowers.

Were I a poet I should write a book of verses about the wild flowers of Siberia. There is a wild rose that blooms huggly on his sturdy bushes. Then there is the mauve and gold of the "Mary and John," that is loved most by the Siberians. This lovely flower is named after the Virgin Mary and the Loved Disciple. Nature seems to have planned a passing panorama of blossoms to delight the outcasts and pioneers living in the thinly populated wastes of Siberia. Every week, it seemed to me, there was another program of wild flowers for the view from my window; all summer and fall they suggested ever-changing tapestry wrought on a background of verdure, hills and water.—Cody Marsh in the National Geographic Magazine.

Bird Student's Paradise.

In Andean Colombia, according to a report recently made by an expedition sent out by the American Museum of Natural History, there are to be found no less than 1,150 species of land birds. This is a larger number than has been checked up in the United States, Canada and Greenland. The inhabitants of this Colombian birdland are largely non-migratory. For in this part of the Andes may be found the tropical, sub-tropical, temperate and alpine zones. The bird student may observe specimens that would ordinarily be scattered over a very large territory, with varying climatic conditions, by simply emulating to some extent the youth in the poem "Excelsior."

Proves Durability of Wood.

The durability of wood as a building material is strikingly emphasized in the old Quaker meeting house at Easton, Md., built in 1682, and probably the oldest frame building in the country without additions or alterations from the original structure. Its frame, inside boarding, and some of the weatherboarding is the same as when built in the days of William Penn, who visited the building when he was laying out the city of Philadelphia. The structure is 60 feet by 44 and is made from white oak, white pine and cypress from the Maryland forests. The church is still used as a place of worship and has been visited and attended by many notable persons.

CALLS CHINESE COOKS BEST

Follower of Confucius Has Only Mild Approval for the Culinary Art-ists of the West.

The jolly, round-faced Chinese who in a combination of proprietor, cook and clerk in a delicatessen store on Doyers street runs his shop for the section and not for "nightovers," says the New York Sun. When a strange face that is not Chinese peeks inside the shop, where the floor is half covered with peck baskets that hold such oriental vegetables as gray potatoes and lily root, his face goes totally blank, he understands nothing, and speaks only the most painfully "plagiarized" English.

But if the door is opened by a westerner whose business he understands and he happens to be in a talkative mood, he can entertain by the half hour with tales and traditions of his trade, told in excellent English, with plenty of jokes and much chuckling. When he speaks of western food and western ways of cooking his manner is always courteous but mildly patronizing. When he talks of the ways of Asia he becomes animated, and when he teaches things about Chinese cooking he is actually enthusiastic.

A valid attempt was made recently to have him understand that, while real Chinese mixtures involving complicated combinations of such things as bits of roast pig, lily roots, bamboo shoots and alkaline solution might have an exotic artistic interest, it should, after all, be conceded that the West, and especially these United States, had done most to develop scientific eating.

He laughed gleefully. "No, no, no! That is not so!" he began. "No people eat with more science, with more careful cooking than the people of China, and this they were doing centuries before Europe had civilization."

"Our cooking, we are taught in China, was invented by our emperor, Pow Hay Se, who reigned about 3000 B. C., although it was our great teacher, Confucius, who laid down most of the rules for scientific eating which to this day are followed by the people."

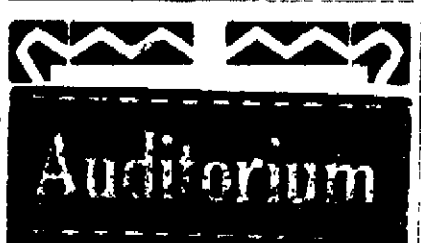

It was his rule that never more meat than vegetables be eaten at a meal. About one-third meat should be ample.

"All food should be properly chopped up fine before it is good to eat. Seasoning should be careful; cooking should be for a very long time. It is always well to have a little ginger root in the food."

"Such rules as these—are they not most excellent rules for scientific eating? We followed them centuries before there was such ideas in the West."

Sea Chameleons.

There are no more talented camouflage artists than some kinds of tropical sea-fish. A scientist who has been making a study of their color phases says some of them can take on in turn the hues of coral, rocks, seaweed, sand, almost instantly making themselves invisible to the hunting enemy. They are enabled to do this by the remarkable nervous control of the chromatophores under the skin with which nature has favored them. The cowfish has four color phases, the glassfish, four; that fascinating dandy of the deep, the sergeantmajor, three; while the red grasper displays six and the Nassau grasper can actually provide the astonished spectator with a prismatic progress through eight colors.

WALNUT AND DRY WILSON.

The abrupt removal of Assistant District Attorney Henry T. Walnut of Pennsylvania recalls the similar dismissal of "Dry" Wilson, the chief prohibition enforcement officer of Massachusetts. Both men were honest, energetic and efficient officers, this being admitted by the powers ordering their removal. "Dry" Wilson was accused of "incompatibility of temperament." Mr. Walnut was not accused of anything except "several years in his position" with which "he should be satisfied." According to the newspapers of Massachusetts and Pennsylvania, the real trouble was that both these officers lacked in tactful recognition of when to be zealous in the performance of their duty and when not to be. "Dry" Wilson's removal followed his raid of a "wet" banquet in Boston in honor of Governor Cox. He was indiscreet enough to think that if the "wet" banquets of common people should be raided so also should be raided the "wet" banquets of the big politicians. Assistant District Attorney Walnut seems to have been under a similarly mistaken impression that the law is no respecter of persons, and he was about to expose liquor frauds in Pennsylvania involving politicians of high degree when Attorney-General Daugherty was induced to order his immediate discharge.

Such, at least, is the view of Philadelphia newspapers. The Public Ledger (Ind. Rep.) protests against the "raw deal" of which Walnut was made the victim and demands his re-employment in order to "alliance the deep suspicious aroused." The Record (Dem.) says a Republican office holder was removed "to save the politicians higher up from exposure and avoid, if possible, another scandal in the party." It begins to look as if prohibition enforcement officers who want to hold their jobs must keep themselves reminded that there is one law for ordinary folk and another for big politicians or the otherwise powerful.

INTERESTING TESTIMONY.

Whiting Williams, former vice-president of the Hydraulic Pressed Steel Company of Cleveland, Ohio, has an interesting story to tell after working for some time as a miner in the Saar Valley and in the Lens and Douai districts. He testifies to the intense hatred the Germans bear the French and the fear with which the French regard the Germans, old enemies on their borders outnumbering them nearly two to one. In a recent address Mr. Williams said America ought to be lenient toward the French desire for a large standing army, for "as yet no nation has signed the dotted line under the statement: 'We will help you if Germany for the third time sends her armies into your borders.'"

According to this authority, the French in the Saar Valley are treating the Germans very liberally, paying them high wages to get a maximum production. In the Lens and Douai districts, which was under German control all through the war and where Mr. Williams also worked, the Germans, he said, deliberately destroyed practically all the mines and all the industrial apparatus such as textile machinery. It is interesting to learn of the general belief among the workmen with whom Mr. Williams lived and fraternized that general war will break out anew within 50 years, completely destroying civilization in its present form. The Bolsheviks among them, he said count on such an issue.

Lieut. A. C. Webb of Nashville, Tenn., is now recognized as one of the foremost etchers of France, although he had never attempted to draw until he entered one of the post-armistice schools started by General Pershing. Evidently those schools were well worth while.

Columbia rather hastily submitted the roll of its 22,420 students as proof that it is the largest university in the world. The University of California has no time in announcing its enrollment of 42,266 students.

The Springfield Republican thinks a question in the jury's retirement room would be the "simple solution" of the problem of locking up mixed juries overnight. But how, in that case, could the men discuss with the women the unsavory cases all were locked up to ballot on?

When she comes over next month Lady Astor's criticisms of America, if any, will have a different viewpoint from those of Mrs. Astor. Lady Astor was born and "raised" in Virginia.

Can You Answer These Questions?

1. Do tortoises use the feet the same back and front?
2. Is the cockroach a dirty insect?
3. How does the goldfinch's nest compare for comfort with most bird-nests?

Answers in Tomorrow's Nature Notes.

Answers To Previous Questions.

1. Is there such a thing as a glass snake? Yes, except that it isn't a snake but a lizard, Ophisaurus ventralis. It does not show any legs and the body is snake-like; but it has eyelids and ear openings, un-snake-like characters. The glass snake is "brittle" in the sense that it can uncouple itself from its tail, as so many lizards can, but it is not true that it can piece itself together again. A small new tail is grown out to replace the lost one.

2. Which is a better jumper, the frog or the toad?

The frog, because he needs to be. Toads rely on keeping quiet to avoid the notice of their enemies. Frogs lead a more exposed life and must often jump to escape a foe. Their bodies are slippery unlike toads—and this also helps, if they have to get away from the actual grasp of an enemy.

3. Will birds eat mistletoe berries? Some birds do, as bluebirds, which depend on them a good deal in the winter. Without the aid of the birds, the mistletoe would not get planted readily. Birds usually wipe their beaks after feeding on the rather sticky pulp of the berries, and in this way wipe any seeds left on their bills, into the cracks of the bark of the tree.

SOCIETY NOTES.

The Misses Eva and Elizabeth Cox were hostesses at a dinner given Wednesday evening at their home, 617 Delaware Avenue, in honor of Mrs. Anna Drake Benson the occasion being her birthday anniversary. Covers were laid for ten. The decorations were roses and carnations. After music and games the guests departed wishing Mrs. Benson many more happy birthdays and voting the Misses Cox charming hostesses.

A farewell party was tendered Mr. and Mrs. A. Saffran Wednesday evening by the Daughters of Jacob at the Hebrew School, they being about to take up their residence in Troy, Mrs. Saffran leaves Tuesday next. Nearly 100 were present. The tables were prettily decorated with vines and fruit. There were songs by several of the younger members of the party and Rabbi Beck of the Hebrew School voiced the regret of the Hebrew community at the Saffrans' departure. Mrs. Saffran received several costly and beautiful presents including a loving cup.

Furman-Schwartz.

A double wedding took place at 5:30 o'clock Tuesday afternoon in the grand ballroom at Belmont's, New York City, when Miss Dorothy L. Schwartz and Miss Jessie W. Schwartz, daughters of Mrs. Rose Schwartz of 306 West Ninety-third street, were married to Joseph J. Furman of Kingston, N. Y., and Arthur J. Becker of 202 Riverside Drive, respectively. Rabbi Elias Solomon of the Eighty-fifth street Temple officiated. Miss Martha Schwartz was maid of honor for her sisters, and the bridesmaids were the Misses Annabel Siegel, Eva Gordon, Sylvia Lipps and Carrie Scott. The ushers were Jerome Dryfoos, Meyer Kaplan, Emanuel Meyer and Mo. Calewaki. About 175 persons attended the wedding, which was followed by dancing. The couples left to spend their honeymoon in California.—New York Times, March 21.

TRIAL OF SUIT DEFERRED AS JUDGE GOES OFF TO WEDDING.

Justice Was Best Man at Wedding in Clintondale.

Lawyers in the litigation growing out of the arrest of Fred Caverly of Marlborough, charged with violating the motor vehicle law last Labor Day, are trying to arrange a date for the young man's trial following the action of Justice of the Peace D. W. Ostrander of Clintondale, because he was best man at a wedding and the wedding hour conflicted with the lawsuit.

The lawyers, D. W. Lent of Highland and Glaus C. Bolin of Poughkeepsie hold no brief with Justice Ostrander for laying aside judicial cares to go to a wedding because they do not have weddings in Clintondale every day. But they hope to get the case scheduled for trial before the June wedding season arrives.

Caverly was arrested after running his automobile into a wagon containing Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Scott of Highland. Caverly, with two companions, overtook Scott and his wife in the highway, struck the rear end of their wagon and hurled it up a bank. The wagon overturned, throwing Mrs. Scott out and causing injuries which necessitate her still receiving medical attention.

A few days ago the case was to have been tried before a jury in Justice Ostrander's court. When Mr. Bolin arrived in Clintondale he was told by the villagers there would be no court. The reason was that Justice Ostrander had notified the jurors they need not appear. Then he went to the wedding.—Newburgh News.

Negre Blood in Alexandre Dumas. Alexandre Dumas, the great French romantic novelist, was born at Villers-Cotterets, Aisne, France, July 24, 1802. He died at Paris December 5, 1870. His father Gen. Alexandre de la Paillette Dumas, was the natural son of the Marquis Alexandre Dary de la Paillette, a rich colonist of Santo Domingo, and of a negress whose name was Dumas.

CITIZENS' LEAGUE
ANNUAL MEETING

(Official Report.)

The twelfth annual meeting of the Citizens' League of Ulster county was held at the Dr. C. O. Sahler Sanitarium, Wednesday, March 22.

Owing to the absence of the president and vice-president, Dr. P. N. Chase, the secretary, called the meeting to order, and asked George LeFevre of Forest Glen to preside. With Mrs. Keith McClintock of the sanitarium presiding at the piano, "America" was heartily sung, and the Rev. J. W. Leach, pastor of the Methodist Episcopal Church at Milton, offered prayer. This was followed by a piano solo by Mrs. McClintock.

The minutes of the last meeting were read and approved. The report of the treasurer was read and approved, showing all bills paid, and a substantial balance in the treasury. A vote of thanks was given the secretary-treasurer for his efficient services.

An effort had been made to make this an unusual meeting but all plans did not materialize.

The secretary read several letters of regret. The first from Governor Nathan L. Miller, who wrote that he could not accept any invitation until the thirty day bill period following the adjournment of the legislature is over.

Then a letter from District Attorney F. G. Traver, stating that owing to the lengthened session of the grand jury he could not attend the meeting, although he regretted it deeply.

Then a letter just received from Judge Fowler was read, stating that he was detained in New York city because of severe lameness, which had made it impossible for him to complete his business there.

Chief of Police J. Allan Wood then read a carefully prepared address. In it he showed how difficult it was to secure evidence to get a search warrant, and also to secure the liquor, or oftentimes the most of it was kept in places other than where it was sold.

He stated that the police had made eighteen raids, finding liquor in every case. Five had pleaded guilty and had been fined, and the other cases were pending. He clearly expressed his opinion that for a second offense there should be more than a fine.

The chief also answered questions which were asked in reference to the enforcement of the law. He expressed the opinion that there would be much less violation of the law in the near future. A hearty vote of thanks was given the chief.

A little over one hundred dollars was pledged for the work.

The committee on nominations which had been previously appointed, consisting of Leslie Herring, Clarence E. Davis and D. B. Hendricks, reported as follows and upon motion they were elected:

Citizens' League Committee—L. Nelly Vale, Claryville; John Herring, Ulster Park; Nathan Ackhart, Clintonville; the Rev. Henry Brink, Gardiner; Verner Marks, Belleaire; Charles A. Snyder, Hurley; Fred L. Metcalf, Highland; Mrs. Edward Young, Milton; Moses S. Davis, High Falls; Morgan K. Coutant, New Paltz; Frank N. Davis, Olive Bridge; Avery J. Cornell, Kyserike; the Rev. J. D. Piper, Marlborough;

the Rev. Ansen Coutant, Tilton; the Rev. B. N. Denniston, Sauger; the Rev. J. Longyear, Phoenixia; Webster H. Hare, Wallkill; Edward A. Smiley, Ellenville; C. L. Shufeldt, Woodstock; Clarence E. Davis, Saugerties R. F. D. 4; Dr. P. N. Chase, Kingston; Dr. C. B. Cragin, Kingston; E. B. Schapmoos, Kingston; Herbert Carl, Kingston; Irving J. Rose, Kingston; W. C. Kingman, Kingston; Andrew N. Barnes, Kingston; Frank B. Matthews, Kingston; Irving Scott, Kingston; Dr. Putnam Cady, Kingston; Dr. F. B. Seeley, Kingston; George LeFevre, Forest Glen.

Executive Committee—Edward A. Smiley, Ellenville; Dr. C. B. Cragin, Kingston; Fred L. Metcalf, Highland; John Herring, Ulster Park; Dr. P. N. Chase, Kingston; Frank B. Matthews, Kingston; Mrs. C. O. Sahler, Kingston; Nathan Ackhart, Clintonville; Dr. F. B. Seeley, Kingston; Dr. C. G. Ellis, Kingston.

Officers—Edward A. Smiley, president; F. B. Matthews, vice-president; the Rev. P. N. Chase, secretary and treasurer.

Adjournment was then taken for dinner, of which nearly a half hundred partook.

It was served in the best style of the Sanitarium, both the preparation and service being faultless, for which those serving it were given a vote of thanks. The Rev. George F. Nello, pastor of the M. E. Church of Pine Hill said grace. The menu was as follows: Vegetable soup, celery, olives, apple fritters, queen sauce, roast chicken, dressing, giblet sauce, mashed potatoes, buttered green beans, tomato salad, cherry pie, bran muffins, bran cookies, coffee, tea, cocoa, milk.

The vice president, the Rev. Dr. C. G. Ellis, having arrived, acted as toastmaster. Addresses were given by the Rev. Dr. F. B. Seeley and Mrs. Martha H. Bell of Milton, president of the W. C. T. U. of Ulster county. Dr. Seeley emphasized the fact that prohibition was not now a moral question, but of obedience to law, and because it was the law it must be enforced and it needed the moral support of all good citizens, and that law was not usually enforced beyond public sentiment.

Mrs. Bell referred to women's work—seemingly weak and feeble, but had been no small factor in bringing about present laws.

Dr. P. N. Chase referred to New Jersey, whose governor had promised to make it as wet as the Atlantic ocean, had been rebuked by the legislature in refusing to confirm his nomination, passing temperance laws over his veto and finally ratifying the 18th amendment, leaving only Connecticut and Rhode Island which had not ratified.

The keynote of the whole meeting was—The law must be enforced, and everyone should assist the officials.

The committee on resolutions reported as follows: Whereas it has been forcibly brought to the attention of the members of the Citizens' League of Ulster County that there are flagrant violations of the Mullan-Gage law both within the city of Kingston and throughout the county, therefore be it

Resolved, that we, the members of said league, do hereby urge all law abiding citizens of Ulster county to do all in their power to assist the enforcement officials in apprehending and prosecuting the violators. Be it further

Resolved, that we commend the chief of police of Kingston for his efforts in enforcing the law in Kingston and for his helpful suggestions today, to the end that all good citizens may cooperate. Be it further

Resolved, that we commend the county officials for their efforts in enforcing said law, and that we pledge our support to that end.

Resolved, that we extend our thanks and hearty appreciation to Mrs. Sahler for the beautiful dinner and every courtesy extended.

The chief of police in his address expressed his opinion that all temperance organizations should continue their efforts. That seemed to be the consensus of opinion of those present and that the work of the Citizens' League was not yet accomplished, and with redoubled effort and unwearied devotion we should press the battle.

The secretary, Dr. Chase, stated that all cases of violation of the 18th amendment which were reported to him would be placed in the hands of the proper authorities.

At the end of the dining room, just back of and above the speakers' table, hung the life size portrait of the late Dr. C. O. Sahler, as if he still looked down upon the men and women who were carrying on the work which he began. The gymnasium, wherein the morning exercises were held, was very tastefully decorated with flags and bunting.

The Citizens' League is 100 per cent American and believes in the enforcement of laws, and it also believes that all instruments forged against the 18th amendment by unright men and devils will be broken in pieces, and that absolute prohibition will be in the constitution not only but will be a fact, and as Governor Miller once said, this law will be as well enforced as any other law.

WALLKILL.

Cracks in the Wall.

To remedy unattractively cracks in a wall place in a saucepan one pound of flour and rub in a little cold water until free from lumps. Add three quarts of boiling water, place on the stove, bring to a boil and stir in a tablespoonful of alum. Cut a quantity of newspaper into fine bits and add it into this paste until it is about as thick as putty. Boil and stir until smooth. Fill the cracks with this with help of a putty knife or a broken pointed case knife. Crowd it into the crack as far as possible, and finish it off level and smooth.

Second Thoughts Often Best.

The saying that "haste makes waste" is old, but the truth it carries is as fresh as ever. A little delay often opens a wiser and safer way.

DEFENSE SCORES IN RICKARD CASE

By Telegram to The Freeman.
New York, March 23.—The defense in the trial of "Tex" Rickard noted eight points, on charges of abduction and criminal assault upon 15-year-old Sarah Schoenfeld, gained several important points today. The first break in the testimony against Rickard came while twelve and one half year old Nellie Gasko, a witness against Rickard, was under cross-examination.

Nellie testified that on the night of July 16, 1921, about a month before the girls said they first met Rickard, Sarah, herself and a 14-year-old boy known to both as "Sonny" had gone to Coney Island together. During the course of the evening Sarah and "Sonny" disappeared and Nellie had to go home alone. The next day, Nellie testified, Sarah admitted that she and "Sonny" had had illicit relations.

Sarah had testified yesterday that her alleged experiences with Rickard were the first time any such thing had happened to her.

Nellie admitted that she and Sarah had been picked up together by a transient officer in Brooklyn on a date six months before the girls first said they had become acquainted.

Nellie said she usually went to Sarah's house to get her friend before they went to Madison Square Garden to see Rickard. This was contradicted by Sarah's testimony on the stand yesterday.

LONDON ADMITS CLAIM IS JUST

By Telegram to The Freeman.
London, March 23.—Secretary Hughes' note firmly asserting America's right to priority payment from German indemnity for the upkeep of the American army of occupation on the Rhine was characterized by Downing street officials today as "just but inopportune."

It is authoritatively stated that Great Britain will formally recognize America's claim. Officials pointed out that they realized the United States is entitled to the money she seeks, but the understanding is that Washington will not press for immediate payment if this recognition is granted.

HOUSE PLANS BIG ARMY-NAVY CUT

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Washington, March 23.—The American army and navy had their backs to the wall today with the congressional knife-wielders standing out in front, ready to proceed with the cutting down process as soon as the legislative machinery can be geared to the job. President Harding and administration leaders, also the general staff of both services, lost hope today that anything can be done with the recalcitrant house to prevent the army being trimmed down to 65,000 men.

The temper of the house, as revealed in applying the knife to the army, convinced them that the navy is going to experience the same cutting pains. The house sliced the army down to 115,000 men in the face of repeated warnings from the president. General Pershing and the war department that 150,000 was the minimum consistent with safety.

GOV'T TO ACT IF STRIKE COMES

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Washington, March 23.—The government can and will take action to protect the public interest in the forthcoming coal strike, Attorney General Daugherty announced today.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL

New York, March 23.—The stock market was weak at the start today, most of the active issues showing large fractional losses. Northern Pacific opened from 74 1/2 to 74 3/4, compared with its previous close of 77 1/2, and Great Northern dropped 1 1/2 to 72 1/2. Studebaker was unchanged at 103 1/2 and Mexican Petroleum rose 3/4 to 120 1/2. Locomotive yielded 1/2 to 105 1/2. Anaconda yielded 1/2 to 50 1/2. Marietta Rockwell rose 1/2 point to 22 1/2.

The majority of stocks showed losses ranging from 1 to around 3 points during the forenoon. The heaviest losses were sustained in the Hill stocks. Northern Pacific rose from 74 1/2 to 75 1/2 but was in supply again and fell back to 74 3/4. Great Northern yielded 1 1/2 to 72 1/2. Losses of fractions were sustained in other railroad issues, with the exception of New Haven. That stock opened at 19 1/2 and then moved up to 20. The steel industrials showed only slight changes. U. S. Steel ranged from 94 1/2 to 95 1/2. Mexican Petroleum made a gain of 1 1/2 to 121 1/2, but reacted from its high level. Pullman was one of the active features, advancing 3 points to 124 1/2. Studebaker was also active, and strong and rose 1 point to 104 1/2.

A selling movement in the afternoon caused losses of from 1 to 2 points in the active issues. Baldwin Locomotive yielded over one point to 105 1/2 and U. S. Steel fell to 95 1/2. Certain Products was a strong feature moving up four points to 47 1/2 and B. R. T. was in demand, showing a gain of 2 1/2 points to 15. Mexican Petroleum was in large supply, falling over 2 points and General Asphalt broke 58.

The market closed steady; government bonds unchanged; railway and other bonds steady.

How She Lost Him.

"Oh, what a lovely ring!" she twittered ecstatically. "But, Reginald, now that you have declared your love for me I want to overwhelm you with something wonderful!"

"All along I have kept my various talents from you, just to be sure that you loved me for myself alone. And now I'm going to surprise you with some of them. I can play the piano beautifully!"

And she immediately rendered Bunn-houser's "Bounce of the Bables" in-sensibly.

After the first few chords Reginald Poorfellow changed his seat for one next the door.

"How do you like that?" she asked when the last crash had died away.

"Rot—I mean wonderful!" he cried, with fond enthusiasm.

"And I can sing, too!" she said; and immediately executed G. Whizz's "Toll of the Helpline."

Trembling, he arose.

Taking her left hand, white she was looking into his face for the admiration she merited, he slipped off the ring again and disappeared in a cloud of thought.

"I ain't crying," was the indignant reply. "I was just kissing my bed good-by, cause I don't know when I'll ever see another."—Youth's Companion.

VALENTINE TRAIL

By RUBY DOUGLAS

© 1922, by McClure Newspaper Syndicate.
"Oh, I'm so tired of lace paper hearts and Cupids made of chocolate and boxes of violets that have been taken out of the ice-box! I almost wish there were no such day as Valentine's day."

The girl who made the remark had bobbed hair and a one-piece frock.

"What would you suggest, Janet?" asked her chum. "What is there left?"

Jane did not reply at once. "That's just it; I don't know what I want. All I know is that I don't want a lace paper heart!"

"Perhaps a real human heart, served up on a platter as in ancient barbaric days, would please you more, dear?"

"N—no. I think I just want to find some one original enough to give me something different," Jane explained.

The clum made audible signs of surprise. "Oh, Jane, you are funny, you, trying to get out of the conventional calf path!"

Neither of the girls knew that, as they sat talking thus over their little tabourette and tea table before the big log fire in the country club house a man had been sitting close by constantly reading a sporting paper.

"I think I'll be a sport myself," he concluded quickly. "I like that girl's voice. I like her looks. I think I'd like her philosophy."

Thereupon he set out to find out who she was, where she lived. He then set his brains to work to originate an idea for a valentine.

His mind had created a thought. "It depends on the snowfall, but I'm just sport enough to think that Cupid—though not of chocolate—will improve the gods to see that I have a snowy setting for February 14!"

Jane had lived in the community adjoining the country club at which she was having a tea the afternoon that Tom Hayes overheard her petulant remark about St. Valentine and his customs.

"The big idea," Tom decided, "is to let the girl guess who is her Valentine."

On the night of February 13 a wonderful carpet of white snow covered the ground.

Tom, feeling like a cut-throat or second-story operator, stole noiselessly through the virgin snow to the Hall's garden.

He had a garden trowel, a package of large red hearts cut from paper, some red fluid that looked like paint.

Underneath the window of Jane he dug out a heart-shaped hole and placed within it a great red paper heart.

Then he walked on through the garden, dropping drops of red in the snow and every few feet adding another heart.

The trail wounded off down into the woods in the rear of the Hall home and disappeared into space.

"If she's anything of a sport she'll follow this trail, and it leads straight to my heart," he said triumphantly. "I'll make her notice me, anyway," he thought, by way of exciting himself.

When Jane put up her shades to look out at the weather on the morning of St. Valentine's day she rubbed her eyes to see if they told her the truth.

Her heart thumped wildly as she dressed and went out of doors without waking the family. She had put on her rubbers and sport clothes, so she followed the trail of hearts to the woods.

"At the end she found a note hung to the limb of a tree.

"If you want to find your Valentine play golf in the snow this afternoon. The red golf ball I have placed beneath the last heart in the trail. I'll be waiting for you at the seventh hole, and when I see the red ball driven from the sixth I shall know that you are on your way."

Jane did not know at first what to do. Her conversation with her chum, Grace, at the country club, came to her mind with the natural association of ideas. At first she accused Grace of the idea, and then she knew that Grace would never have had either the energy or the originality to think of it.

"I shall go, anyway," she decided.

After lunch she surprised the family by announcing that she was going to the club for a game of golf.

"You're nutty, sis," said her brother. And off she went to the golf course. The red ball hidden in her pocket. She kept her golf clubs in her locker.

Her cheeks were the color of the ball she was playing with when she reached the sixth hole and told her caddy to go on ahead of her.

As she approached the seventh hole across the wonderful white fairway that led to it she saw a man in golf clothes awaiting her. Her excitement almost choked her, her daring somewhat subdued her.

"I'm afraid I'm not as pretty as a lace heart," the man began, extending his hand and himself a little embarrassed as he looked into the beautiful eyes of Jane.

Jane would have blushed if she had not already gathered sufficient color to be becoming. "You—heard my silly conversation?"

He nodded. "Yes—and I know your name and mine is Hayes—Tom Hayes. Please let me be your valentine, Miss Jane."

Jane liked him; she knew she liked him. "All right; you shall begin by being my valentine and—"

"Leave the end to me," he said. "The game's the thing now."

OLD WAWAHUNG DUTCH CHURCH RECORDS PUBLISHED

Recall Time When Indians Threw Tomahawks At Pulpit.

The New York Genealogical and Biographical Society has published in a handsome folio volume the records of the Wawarsing Reformed Dutch Church. The church edifice, constructed of stone, was dedicated on the 30th day of October, 1748, by Dominus Johannes Casparus Freyemoot. The early records of marriages and baptisms in Dutch were translated by Royden Woodward Yeeburgh, the historian of the society. Among the more numerous of the old Ulster county names appearing in the old records are those of Bevier, Brodhead, Clearwater, Coykendall, DeWitt, DuBois, Harndenburgh, Hasbrouck, Schoonmaker, Van Wageningen and Vernooij. The volume contains a fine print of the original edifice, and a photograph of the deed of the land upon which it stood. The roof was supported by a large open belfry containing a sweet toned bell cast by a famous bell founder of Amsterdam, Holland, and was the gift to the church of Maria Clearwater, wife of Peter Vernooij. Surmounting the belfry was a gilded rooster, serving the triple purpose of weather vane, imposing signal and a reminder of the broken vow of Peter the Apostle. At the Indian Massacre of Wawarsing on the 13th of August, 1781, the Indians amused themselves by throwing tomahawks at the pulpit. This pulpit was retained in the new church edifice as a reminder of the sufferings on the Wawarsing frontier, but was burned along about 1845, when the edifice was burned. Only one hundred copies of the volume have been printed. It furnishes a most valuable addition to the old family records of Ulster.

Good Location for a Light.
There are two lights which are almost necessary in the evening lamp on. One is between the window and the kitchen sink and the other is just inside the hood over the stove so the light is thrown directly on the top of the stove. If these two lights are properly placed no other light is absolutely needed.

Cocoon Oil Makes A Splendid Shampoo

If you want to keep your hair in good condition, be careful what you wash it with.

Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle, and is very harmful. Multisided coconut oil shampoo (which is pure and entirely greaseless), is much better than anything else you can use for shampooing, as this can't possibly injure the hair.

Simply put two or three teaspoonfuls of Multisided in a cup of glass with a little warm water, then moisten your hair with water and rub it in. It will make an abundant of rich, creamy lather, and cleanse the hair and scalp thoroughly. The lather rinses out easily, and removes every particle of dirt, dandruff and excess oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves it fine and silky, bright, fluffy and easy to manage.

You can get Multisided coconut oil shampoo at any drug store. It is very cheap, and a few ounces is enough to last everyone in the family for months. Be sure your drugist gives you Multisided.

BOWLING LEAGUE CLOSES SEASON

With National Ulster County Bank in First Place in Mercantile League—Individual Records and High Scores Made During Season—Banquet April 3.

The Mercantile Bowling League was brought to a successful close Wednesday evening on the "Y" alleys when the last match game was rolled for the season. The Gas & Electric Company boys won all three games from the Fullers and as a result the shirt makers were relegated from second place and closed the season in fourth position. The league pennant was won by National Ulster County Bank, with the Laco Mills in second place, and the Silk Mills a close third.

The members of the league will celebrate the successful season with a banquet on Monday evening, April 3, at the Y. M. C. A.

According to the league records the team high score for one game was won by the Silk Mills with a roll of 569 pins.

Individual high score was won by Healy of the Matthews Company team with a roll of 220 pins.

The three game individual high score was won by Snyder of the Na-

The Measure of Economy

THE only yardstick by which economy can be measured is quality. And for quality you must depend largely upon the word of the store where you buy. In this store, your ultimate satisfaction is the only condition that is acceptable.

Feast of St. Thomas.

It was in the twelfth century that the feast of St. Thomas was instituted, and in connection with the practice of "going a goodling" on that day there was a kindred custom in vogue. The Advent images—consisting of two dolls dressed the one to represent the Saviour and the other the Virgin Mary. During the week before Christmas they were carried about the country by a poor woman who in return for their exhibition, expected a halfpenny. It was considered the height of ill luck to refuse this. The holders of the images sang a song descriptive of the seven joys which the virgin mother experienced. If no household was visited by the image-bearers before Christmas eve it was considered to presage misfortune. This gave rise to the expression, "as unhappy as the man who has seen no Advent images."—Chicago Journal.

Old Saw Traced to Cervantes.

"Dead men tell no tales," was one of the many wise old saws in the immortal "Don Quixote" of the greatest of Spanish writers, Miguel de Cervantes (1547-1616), sometimes translated as "Death is dead." The words "Dead men tell no tales" also occur in a poem called "The Pilgrim of Glencoe" by the Scottish poet, Thomas Campbell (1777-1800). "Dead men tell no tales" is an old saying long current in Scotland. In Holland and in Germany they say, "Dead does tell no tales." "Dead men tell no tales" is a line from "The Garden of Proserpine" by the English poet Algernon Charles Swinburne (1837-1909). The meaning, in whatever form, is obvious enough: That when a man is dead, he is dangerous to nobody.

Sources of Dickens' Names.

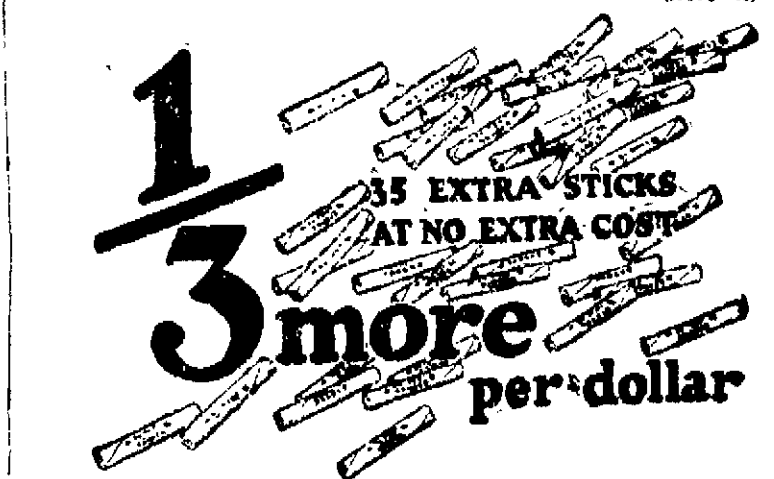

It seems surprising that the names of Dickens' characters, odd though they were, should be found in real life; for it was from life that many of them were taken. Some as is known were copied from the names of sizes over business places, but that was not the novelist's only source of selection. John Forster, his biographer, found among his papers a carefully drawn list of names, with the sources from which he obtained them. Some of the names are too extravagant for anything but reality: Jolly Stick, Bill Merigold, George Muzzle, William Why, Robert Gospel, Robbitt Scabbard, Sarah Goggles, Catherine Two, Sophia Domesday, Rosetta Trust and Sally Gabbitash.

"Plumage Transformation"

A type of plumage transformation which appears to have a very clear adaptive purpose, is what is known as the "molting of the male." It is particularly characteristic of many species of ducks, the two sexes of which ordinarily have distinct plumages. Most ducks moult their flight feathers all at one time, with the result that they are quite unable to fly for a term of several weeks after the breeding season. During this period they live retired lives among the secluded waterways of their nesting grounds, waiting for a growth of new quills to equip them for their autumn migration.

Toll of Ant Complicated.

There is no creature of the animal kingdom which is more particular as to personal cleanliness than the ant, which can not tolerate the presence

We can reduce Your Land Clearing Costs

THIS year we can save you over one-fourth on your land clearing costs. Every dollar you spend in our store for dynamite buys you $1.35 worth. We offer this material reduction in the cost of explosives because we sell Du Pont Dumorite, the new farm dynamite which gives you 1/3 more work per dollar. Dumorite has the strength, stick for stick, of 40% dynamite. A box of Dumorite contains 135 to 140 sticks of this new explosive while a box of 40% dynamite contains only 100 sticks. And box for box, the cost is the same. So the money you spent for a box of dynamite in 1921 now brings you 35 to 40 additional sticks free.

Dumorite is also the right dynamite to use for blasting boulders and tree holes, and for ditching in dry soil, where the "propagated" method (using Du Pont Straight Dynamite) cannot be employed.

Stop in and let us tell you more about this remarkable Du Pont Explosive which is going to mean a big reduction in your blasting costs.

of dirt on its body. These little creatures actually use a number of real toilet articles in keeping themselves clean. A well-known authority says their toilet articles consist of coarse and fine-toothed combs, hair brushes, sponges and even washes and soap. Their combs, however, differ from ours mainly in that they are fastened to their legs. The ants have no set time for their toilet operations, but clean up whenever they get soiled.

Bun's Effect on Glass Palace.

It has been found impossible to give accurate dimensions of the Crystal Palace, London, because of the contraction the building undergoes during the day. In the case of the palace, the approximate length of the main structure of which is 1,392 feet, a measurement taken at noon would exceed the dimension which would be given on a remeasurement in the evening, when the "contraction," consequent upon the absence of heat, as the

All of European Origin.

A dumpling is a good old English dish, and comes from the word dumpling, that meant to throw down mud-dug, and the diminutive ending "ling." The idea was a little cake that was made by throwing raw dough into boiling water. From Portugal comes the word marmalade, which was originally a sweet preserve made from quinces and takes its name from marmelo, the Portuguese name for that fruit. Cruller is from a good Yankee dish, though it is from an old German or Dutch word, "kruller," meaning little curled cake.

Increases the action of the intestines

Hundreds of men and women have already found freedom from laxatives by eating Fleischmann's fresh yeast.

Doctors are now agreed that proper elimination of waste matter should be brought about by food. One doctor comes right out and states plainly that the indiscriminate use of cathartics is one of the causes of constipation.

Physicians all over the country are recommending Fleischmann's fresh yeast because it is a fresh food, rich in those elements which keep the intestines healthy. In one series of tests cases, normal functions were restored in from 3 days to 5 weeks.

Try it out for yourself. Begin today by adding 2 or 3 cakes of Fleischmann's Yeast to your everyday diet. Keep it up and see how normally and regularly your intestines act. Be sure it's Fleischmann's Yeast—the familiar tin-foil package with the yellow label. Place a standing order with your grocer.

Long Life and Reliability,

The Hupmobile is a notable car for style. It has great beauty. It is comfortable to the point of being luxurious. But the thing that people tell each other most often, is that it is almost impossible to wear it out. We are still supplying parts for the first Hupmobiles ever built, 12 and 13 years ago; and these cars are in use today all over the world. Back of Hupmobile long life and reliability is the fact that its important parts and its precise shop practice, are similar, and as fine, as are employed in manufacturing the highest priced cars.

HIGH IDEALS THAT WORK IN PRACTICE

The Golden Rule in Business is Practiced and of Benefit to Employer and Employee, E. E. Fessenden Tells Rotarians at Business Methods Meeting.

Kingston Rotarians, at their monthly evening dinner Wednesday evening, enjoyed a program prepared by the Committee on Business Methods. Robert R. Rodie, chairman, that was a surprise and a delight by reason of the clear way in which practical matters were presented by the speakers. There was more than the usual amount of singing and a new member, Ernest R. Acker, operating manager of the Kingston Gas and Electric Company, was introduced and properly lectured. The first speaker on the program was J. T. Johnson.

"Ethics" was the topic discussed by Mr. Johnson, who said:

In connection with this word, meaning character, morals and duty, there are many good words that have been misused and overworked, such as system, service, efficiency, concentration, and others, all fine and proper if used with good judgment. We who are in active business know that almost daily we are solicited to put in some so-called system that will save time or money, but not adapted to our business, or to put in some new line of goods that is not suitable, caused by the seller not studying the needs of the buyer. Instead of selling service he is thinking only of self and the immediate profit.

Trade associations have been a wonderful help in improving business ethics. Our National Hardware Association, of which I have been a member for many years, has never adopted a set code of ethics but the unwritten code is to regard competitors as friends. Our association is twenty-seven years old and one of its most important objects is to endeavor cordial, sincere friendships and good feeling among competitors. One particular condition our association has emphasized on, that it is unfriendly to agree to employ the employees of a competitor while he is still in their employ. Am very glad to say that every local competitor is my personal friend. The National Credit Association is also doing splendid work, working against misrepresentation of any kind and giving advice and aid to all who ask and deserve it.

We have in Kingston a Jobbers Association embracing all lines of business. Occasionally we have dinner together, talk over business methods, and find that our troubles are all about the same, and many of them imaginary. It has been helpful to our customers as well as to ourselves. In the old days it was thought proper to sue a debtor and get judgment ahead of his other creditors. We now have a frank talk with the debtor, go over his finances carefully. If he is hopelessly involved we try to reach the best possible settlement for his creditors and himself. Sometimes we find a loose, careless method of doing business; then we try and teach him the proper way and often he becomes a good successful merchant. I remember a merchant doing business in a small town, his payments became slower and slower, his checks were protested, credit so poor that very few wholesale houses would give him even a small amount of credit. One of our members, and I am pleased to say a member of our own Rotary Club, investigated this merchant's business, found the weak spots, taught him the right methods and today he is doing a larger business than ever before and pays his bills promptly. As employers it is our duty, and should be our pleasant duty, to study our own character and habits. We have an effect on our own employees either for good or bad, particularly in small establishments where all come in personal contact. So let us be upright and prompt in our dealings, careful in our language and manners, attentive and friendly to others, which will surely result in cooperation and efficiency. Rotary is doing a wonderful work and its rapid growth shows it is following the right path.

The International Committee of Business Methods is now studying and forming a new code of ethics, suitable for all, which we believe will be a great help to every member, and to anyone who tries to follow it in their daily life.

It is all summed up in the great Teacher's words, "Whatsoever ye would that men should do unto you do ye even so unto them."

E. Everett Fessenden, president of the Fessenden Shirt Company, the next speaker, had for his topic, "The Establishment of Friendly Relations with Employees, Through Rotary Ideals," drawing arguments from his own experience and creating such a profound impression that at the close of his address the audience rose and applauded for several minutes. Mr. Fessenden's paper was as follows:

Success in business is usually thought of in terms of money but business should be something more than making money and in it we should be true to certain ideals. Since we have been in business in Kingston I like to feel that we have contributed something to the character building of those boys and girls and men and women with whom it has been our good fortune to work during the past eight years. The primary consideration in establishing good relations with employees is the wage question. A fundamental difference between capital and labor is that labor must be employed to exist while capital may exist in idleness. Experienced shirt operators are dependent upon employment in the shirt factories in Kingston and the fall of activity in the shirt industry often creates a condition of unemployment. Such times are very brief but they give to the employer an economic advantage in fixing the wages and the hours of employment.

The application of Rotary Ideals would not permit an employer to take advantage of such an opportunity for there is a fair wage that can be paid if any wage can be paid at all. This wage should be determined by the conditions in the company, the industry and general business. A fair wage is a question of fact and to be determined as such and not by the wage at which men can be secured. I deplore the attitude of many capitalists which was very clearly expressed by J. P. Morgan some years ago at a Congressional inquiry in Washington. He was asked whether he considered $10.00 a week a living wage for a man. He replied, "It is if it is all that he can get and he takes it."

As a foundation upon which to build, we have taken a fundamental principle of property rights, a principle which I am sure would be readily subscribed to by the Rotary Club. That principle stated in terms is that: "A man has a right to all values due to his own unaided efforts." There should, I think, be added to this principle the statement that all values, all property, all wealth, if you please, are subject to the supreme moral law. We should not forget that "The earth is the Lord's and the fullness thereof" and that we but occupy a tenancy under him. In truth it may be said that no man creates value of his own unaided effort and among the exigencies of business we are prone to forget the extent of our obligations to others. Did you ever stop to think that in strictness no man has the exclusive right to anything? That all great inventions, all great books, all great works of art are but the culmination of the ages and that the most obscure person that has lived upon this earth of ours may have had some real part in the formation of those great plays of Shakespeare. Pope says, "All are but parts of a stupendous whole, whose body nature is but God the whole."

We have stated this principle of property rights many times to our employees and have always tried to keep it before us as the business progressed. Many times it has seemed difficult in application but many important decisions have been based upon it. And so mindful ever of the fact that those people who have aided in the building up of the organization have a distinct right and a growing interest therein, we have endeavored to see that a portion of the profits finds its way each week into their pay envelopes, not as profits, but as part of what we like to think of as a saving wage. In 1915 it became evident that if we were to continue in business, we must pay less money for labor. I went to the employees and stated the case frankly and without question the cut was accepted and the work went forward. Later when the business warranted it, the piece prices were raised unhesitatingly. And so we established a confidence in each other, a confidence that has grown with the years.

The second consideration in the question of good relations is the hours of employment. This also is a question of fact to be decided as such. Shirt operating is of excessive strain as can well be imagined when you consider that the button sewer handles 7,000 buttons daily or the buttonhole maker works from 500 to 1,000 buttonholes per hour or the expert shirt ironer presses a shirt every three minutes. The hours which they work are of prime importance. We have not established the legal hours of employment but have made our hours as short as possible and have endeavored in every way to relieve any nervous tension on workers, giving as much freedom as is consistent with good workmanship and fair earnings.

The secretary in his letter said I was to read a paper on "The Tale of a Shirt." I assume that he alluded to that old Fifth Reader poem by Thomas Hood, "Stitch, stitch, stitch in hunger, poverty and dirt, stitching at once with a double thread a shroud as well as a shirt." And this brings up the third important consideration in the question of good relations. The days of Thomas Hood are past and today we work in well heated, well lighted and well ventilated factories. We have spared no expense in making the factory a decent place in which to work.

The manufacture of shirts presents many problems but nothing is greater than that of the human factor. To forget the human side, to think of the worker only in terms of dozens, is a great mistake, for each is capable of great emotions even as you and I. I have tried always to know personally and intimately every member of the organization. I have tried to know his antecedents, his home conditions and his aims in life. If there were any ways in which I could help him in any perplexity I have tried to know them. I have tried to keep before him the fact that life should be a constant progression. In short, I have considered each as an individual and have tried to show each the importance of the job and to teach each his duties to himself, his fellows and to the organization.

We endeavor to promote thrift and as an important adjunct we use the Christmas Club. At the beginning of each year each employee is asked to pledge a certain weekly amount to the Christmas Club. This amount is deducted each week from the pay envelope so that as far as the employee is concerned, the money is never missed, and the end of the year finds him with a substantial check. Last year those savings amounted to over $5,000.00. If I were asked to name our greatest asset, I should not point to our building or to our machinery or cash in bank (there isn't any), but to the good will or our employees and to our reputation for fair dealing with workers, things which have been accomplished only through Rotary Ideals. By a love of justice, common to all Rotarians; by an instinct of friendliness, for it has been said that a man to have friends must show himself friendly; by faith in the truth—by these things—coupled with cooperation and energy The Fessenden Shirt Company has been able to render service and we know that "the profits most who serves best."

PLUTARCH.
Plutarch, March 22.—Sunday will be the last preaching service before conference and will be the last Sunday that the Rev. C. C. Durst will be with us, as he expects to graduate from the seminary and will then go back to his home in Ambury, West Virginia. We are sorry to see him go, but wish him success in his new field of labor. Come out next Sunday and give him a hand shake. Whether we will have preaching next conference year will depend on the conference and the people of this place.

SIX-CYLINDER TOURING CAR
$1650
L. O. B. Muncie, Ind.

THE DURANT SIX

THE simplicity of construction and ease of upkeep which have been attained in the Durant Six are preserved in the new six-cylinder car, in spite of its greater size and power.

Mechanically, this Six includes every distinguishing feature of Mr. Durant's four-cylinder car, which he describes as "Just a Real Good Car," and which has already demonstrated how very good "a real good car" can be.

Among these features is the Tubular Backbone in the frame (patent applied for), which relieves undue strain on the driving units and prevents squeaks and rattles in the body.

THE ANSTED MOTOR

has been adopted for the Six. Its excellent performance combined with the Durant simplified chassis construction makes this car very satisfying to its owners.

Wishing for sleep is a poor way to get it

A LITTLE wisdom in the daytime is a better assurance of rest than any amount of anxious wishing when nerves are a-jangle at night.

What you do at noon often has more influence on sleep than what you want and hope for, at midnight.

Coffee's drug element, caffeine, whips up the nerves, and when its use is continued there's usually a penalty which no amount of mental effort can avoid.

The part of wisdom, as so many thousands have found, is to turn away from nerve-stimulation and adopt rich, delicious Postum as the mealtime drink. Postum delights the taste, but brings no disturbance to nerves or digestion. Even the little children can share in the enjoyment of Postum at any meal.

It's better to anticipate warnings than to be driven by them.

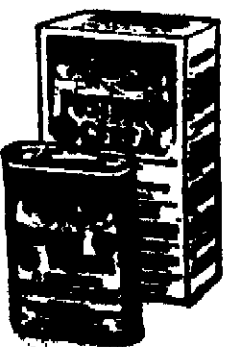

It's better to encourage and preserve sound nerves and complete health than to listen to the clock ticks at night and say, "I wish!"

You can get Postum wherever good food or drink is sold and served. An order today may be the beginning, for you, of the great satisfaction and comfort which so many others have found in Postum.

Your grocer has both instant Postum (in tin) made instantly in the cup by the addition of boiling water. Postum cereal (in package, if larger bulk, for those who prefer to make the drink while the meal is being prepared) made by boiling for 30 minutes.

Postum for Health—"There's a Reason"

JOHNSON FORESEES
20-CENT GAS HERE

In Preparation For Big Business He
Orders 30,000 Gallon Tank—
Plans To Put On Tank Wagon.

Jacob Johnson, proprietor of Johnson's Garage on Washington avenue near the corner of Hurley avenue, has anticipated a big season in the gasoline field and has just placed an order with the Standard Tank Company of Pennsylvania for a 30,000 gallon gasoline tank which he will install in the rear of his garage. At the present time Mr. Johnson has a 12,000 gallon storage tank. The new tank will be erected on a lot in the rear of the garage with direct connection with the railroad spur which has been constructed.

He has also ordered a new Wayne visible gasoline curb pump and anticipates putting on a tank wagon to distribute gasoline to his customers who buy wholesale. By the installation of the big tank Mr. Johnson plans to keep down the high spots in the gas market.

Mr. Johnson predicted twenty cent gasoline in Kingston before very long saying that from the present market indications it looked as though gasoline would retail for 20 cents this summer.

OUR DAILY PATTERN.

An Up-to-Date Model 3764-3761

This is a type of dress that is quite appropriate for dinner, dance or afternoon wear. Satin and figured georgette are here combined. One could have this in broadcloth and satin, or crepe de chine and embroidery. It is good also in taffeta, serge, moire or faille.

The Waist Pattern 3764 is cut in 7 sizes: 34, 36, 38, 40, 42, 44 and 46 inches bust measure. The skirt is cut in 7 sizes: 24, 26, 28, 30, 32, 34 and 36 inches waist measure. To make the dress of one material will require 3 1/4 yards 32 inches wide. If made as illustrated in the large view 3 1/4 yards of figured and 3 1/4 yards of plain material will be required 42 inches wide. The width of the skirt at the foot is about 2 1/2 yards.

This illustration calls for two separate patterns which will be mailed to any address on receipt of 12 cents for each pattern in coin or stamps by the Pattern Department, The Freeman, Rondout, N. Y. Be sure to state size wanted.

Catalogue Notice.

Send 15c in coin or stamps for our up-to-date fall and winter 1921 catalogue, containing 550 designs of Ladies', Misses' and Children's Patterns, a concise and comprehensive article on dressmaking, also some points for the needle (il- some dressmaker).

Daddy's Evening Fairy Tale

BY MARY GRAHAM BONNER

BAT BABIES

"Mrs. Hoary Bat," said Daddy, "had three small babies. She had been South all winter and now had come up North for the summer. She spent most of her time in the days hanging on the branch of some tree, and was not in the least afraid of falling. She carried her small babies with her wherever she went and had made them hang on to her as she flew with them."

"Every night when she went hunting for insects she took her babies with her, and they hung on like anything, as she flew with them across the tops of the trees."

"In the daytime she did not take them to live in dark caves, but stayed out of doors in the trees. But she did not care about the daytime for hunting or for playing, and neither did the babies."

"They liked the night time best, as all their bat relatives did."

"Their relatives, the Red Bats, lived in the open as they did for the Red Bats are first cousins to the Hoary Bats."

"Mother Hoary had strong, though long and thin wings, and she could fly a great distance without stopping."

"Ah," said Mother Hoary Bat, "you babies are bright little bat babies."

"I suppose every mother thinks her own babies are the brightest. I suppose that is the way it always is. Each mother thinks that no baby is quite so beautiful or quite so smart as her own."

"But all the same, though I know that to be true, I do not see how any mother can think her babies are any brighter than mine."

"I can take them off hunting for insects, and they hang on to me."

"Could other mothers fly off while their babies hung on to them? I don't believe they could. So I do think I am quite right in saying that no other babies are so bright."

"At least no other babies that I know of, except bat babies, can do such a smart thing as that."

"There are other mothers who have to leave the babies with someone else if they are going out and can't take the babies with them."

"They have to ask their neighbors to 'mind' the babies, or they have to ask the nurse to be sure to see the babies are all right."

"They can't take them along as Mother Hoary Bat can. That is why I think my babies are so bright. They know enough to hang on. They don't have to be watched and guarded over while their mother goes out marketing, for they can go, too!"

"Dear little Bat Babies, Mother Bat thinks you are the brightest little babies in all the world."

"It doesn't matter what other mothers may think, for no matter what they think and no matter how much they may boast of their babies they can't do that."

"Well," said Nancy, "I'm glad that Mother Hoary Bat is so proud of her babies, and I am glad that they know how to hang on."

"But I would rather not be thought so bright than to have to hang on to my mother when she flew through the air for insects. I'm glad real mothers don't fly, for then there is no danger of their expecting their babies to hang on while they fly!"

"I think I'd much rather not be thought so bright."

"I believe I think the same," said Nick.

"Well, we're satisfied as we are, and the Hoary Bats are satisfied as they are," said Daddy, "but still I do think Mother Hoary Bat has a right to be very proud of her children when they can hang on and go marketing with her when they are only little babies."

"Yes, we will have to admit that," said Nancy. "For there aren't many little creatures that can do that! Still I am very, very thankful, Daddy, that I was never a little Bat baby. I am very, very thankful of that!"

HIGHLAND.

Highland, March 22.—Friday evening at the M. E. Church parlor the Auxiliary Club celebrated St. Patrick's evening with a grand roast pork supper. It was grand from start to finish. There was a very large attendance, and no one left saying they did not have enough to eat. The rooms were beautifully decorated with green and white emblematic of the saint himself. Mrs. J. W. Feeter was chairman of dining room, with a very able corps of assistants, who were all dressed in white, with fancy caps and green streamers. The apron booth, with Mrs. George Cornell, chairman, with Mrs. P. A. Coons, Mrs. Harvey Traver and Miss Fannie Bruyn, assistants. These people did a thriving business. Their tables were decorated with green and gold, shamrocks and harps, also St. Patrick and his best girl, which was very appropriate, and all wore fancy caps. The dining tables were very pretty, with ferns and pussy willows, also paper decorations. Mr. and Mrs. George Everett president over the coffee serving, and to Mrs. J. P. Whitely and her co-workers were awarded deserved congratulations for their high standing in preparing the appetizing and delicious meal. During the serving Mrs. William Maynard and Mrs. Kelsey Staples rendered fine piano selections, which elicited warm applause. The president, Mrs. R. H. Decker has cause to be proud of the way the details were carried out, for there certainly was not a dull feature about the affair, and the club felt elated over the social and financial results of the St. Patrick's supper.

The M. E. Choir will give a cantata for Easter. They are now having rehearsals under direction of Howard E. Wilcox.

The Hose Company held their regular meeting Tuesday evening. The usual good time prevailed.

Walter Hasbrouck has a contract for the new hose house to be erected soon, and the company will be delighted when they can occupy new quarters.

Mrs. James Nickerson has been a guest this week of relatives in Cliftondale.

Mr. and Mrs. M. Everett and two daughters spent some time recently as guests of relatives in Kingston.

Kelsey Staples of this place, who has been employed in the Union Pacific tea store, Poughkeepsie, as manager, is now in Poughkeepsie for the same firm, and likes the place well.

Saturday evening few friends of Mrs. Arthur Merritt gave her a surprise party at her home. All had a pleasant time, and she received birthday presents, and cards was the past-time of the evening.

Mrs. Philip Schantz gave a luncheon to about thirty of her friends Saturday afternoon, at her home, Vineyard avenue. After lunch bridge was enjoyed.

Mrs. Dewitt Clearwater was a recent guest of friends in Poughkeepsie.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Ritchie, of Bogota, New Jersey, were in this place last week on business.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Lent had as their guest the past week, Mrs. S. Warring, of New Paltz, mother of Mrs. Lent.

Mr. and Mrs. B. A. Reynolds, of New Paltz, were in this place St. Patrick's evening, attending Auxiliary Club supper.

There was a dance Friday evening in St. Augustine Hall.

Josiah Schoonmaker and daughter were recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. Everett Schoonmaker in New Paltz.

Mrs. Philip Wilklow has been spending some time in New York city. Mr. and Mrs. DuBois Enniet entertained their daughter, Mrs. L. Griffin the past week.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Bait entertained several young people Friday evening. They report a very fine time.

J. W. Feeter has sold out his hardware business to a firm from Poughkeepsie. They have taken possession.

Daniel Kurtz is soon going to conduct a plumbing business in the store now occupied by Highland Post printing office. They will move April 1st, and he will move in when they vacate.

He was head of that work in J. W. Feeter's for several years, and is a very competent man and thoroughly understands the business. Miss Rosalie DuBois goes with Mr. Kurtz as bookkeeper.

Music Study Club held their meeting Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Philip Schantz, on Vineyard avenue. There was a good attendance. The program was good, and the hostess as usual, served fine refreshments, which every person enjoyed and appreciated.

Ed Dimsey purchased a new car, Willys-Knight, of Lloyd Tlass.

Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Miner, who have lived in Newburgh have bought the place of Austin Merritt, and will move here soon. Highland seems to be the place.

Miss Elizabeth Decker, who has been in Vassar Hospital, has returned home very much improved. Her mother and sister, who have been ill with grip for nearly two weeks, are up around the house, and are glad to report.

Captain R. H. Decker has had a very severe cold, but is at present around. Mrs. Decker has been in bed several days with grip cold, and Miss Bertha Dimsey is also suffering from a grip cold. Glad to report they are feeling better. Nearly every family in the place has some of its members with these hard colds and throat trouble.

Wednesday, March 22nd is M. E. Conference in Poughkeepsie. It is expected many from here will attend. These sessions are very interesting. The people of Methodist Church here expect to have the Rev. F. A. Coons and family returned.

Ida McKinley Connell, D. of A. of this place will hold their regular meeting on Wednesday evening, April 5th, at which time initiation will take place. Officers and team requested to wear white. Refreshments will be served at close of work by a committee. Members urged to be present.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Schamhorn had week-end guests from New York City.

Mrs. Harriet Clinton has returned home after a pleasant visit with her son and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Noah Clinton in Ossining.

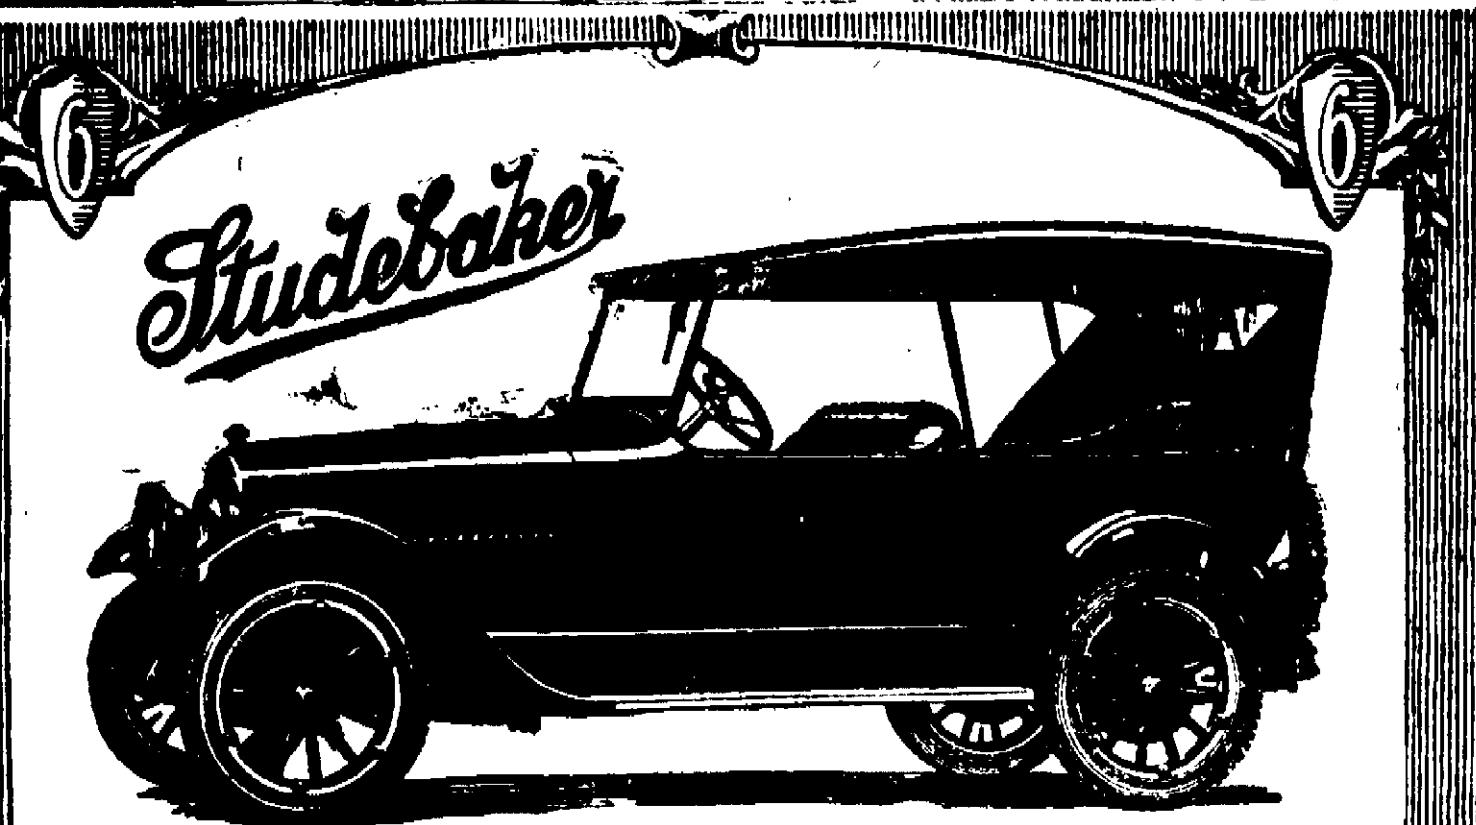

Mrs. Maria Harper spent Tuesday in Poughkeepsie on business.

Mrs. Thomas Courant who has been ill with grip cold, is now so she is about the house.

Mrs. J. J. Lucas is ill with severe cold at her home on Maple avenue.

Mrs. Myron Terpening and her daughter Anna are both confined to the house with colds, have been sick for some time.

Mrs. George Evert, who has been sick, glad to report, is feeling very much better.

In the New Models Studebaker Again Establishes Its Right to Leadership!

Nineteen twenty-one was a Studebaker year. Nineteen twenty-two is well under way—uncertain in most things, but as certain in one as tomorrow's sunrise. It will be a Studebaker year.

For the new models continue the intrinsic values that made 1921 a Studebaker year. PLUS the refinements suggested by another year of fine motor car building.

Beautiful new bodies have been designed and built complete by Studebaker.

Refinements have been made in equipment features that add to the comfort and the convenience of driver and passenger.

Refinements have been made in mechanical details that make driving easier and the shifting of gears an operation as silent as it is simple.

We are certain that the new models will maintain Studebaker leadership. We KNOW that you will be interested in them. We urge you to see them at the Automobile Show this week.

Look for These Features in the New Special-Six at the Show

24 H. P., 145-horse motor with detachable head Intermediate transmission Improved clutch makes the shifting of gears smoothly quiet and easy
New body of unusual dimensions, built complete by Studebaker, finished in a deep, rich blue with refinements which make it even more beautiful than last year's model
Large beveled plate glass window in rear of body tailored top
Lowest possible controlled front dash
Luxurious leather upholstery
Furniture, including radio clock, attractively grouped on dash
Built-in three-speed Yale transmission lock, ignition lock and lock on tool compartment in left front door—operated with same key
Folding lights in lower corners of one-piece two-piece windshield Windshield wiper Continuous incandescent light 32-inch steel tires

THE MOST BEAUTIFUL CAR IN AMERICA

THE 6-66 LAKEWOOD

(SEVEN PASSENGER TOURING CAR)

HE WHO buys a seven passenger family car expecting much in comfort and dependability, is often willing to sacrifice a little versatility in performance.

A long wheelbase, 118 feet of vibrant springleaf, and deep nested coil springs in the upholstery are factors of comfort in the Paige Lakewood. Generous design in frame and running gear are factors of dependability.

The unlooked-for surprise comes when you sit behind the wheel of this generous bodied car and find it doing things for you that you have never expected from a standard car with a standard motor. After all, nothing can be said about Lakewood appearance or performance that it will not better say for itself.

The members of the Circle will give a mock trial in the church on Friday evening, March 31. Admission, adults, 25 cents, children, 15 cents. Further details will be given next week.

Roger Babson says

That strange to say "The better grades of goods are moving faster than the cheaper grades." We find it so in Kingston. It is easier to sell a $75.00 dresser than an $18.00 dresser. It is especially so with upholstered furniture, more interest is shown in how the article is made than how well it looks. People are inquiring as to how the article is constructed, etc. We show them just how the frame is put together, the quality of the webbing, and the double row of hair stuffing and the covering itself, how that it is sunfast and durable.

In the House Furnishing Department our customers usually select Wear Ever Aluminum cooking utensils, preferring that make to the cheaper aluminum makes. And so it goes through the whole store. Quality is being sought after more than ever.

Wilton Rugs are selling better than either Axminster or Velvet Rugs. Prices are now down to the prices of 1915.

Same way with Ranges. At one time we were of the opinion that ranges costing more than $80 or $75 could not be sold in Kingston. We find now, however, that most of the ranges we sell today will average over $100.00 and that the Monarch with its 30-year guarantee is the very best range on the market today. For a combination range we recommend the Bengal Range as it has never failed us yet.

EXPRESS CO. GETS READY FOR RUSH

The express business is a good barometer of trade, according to W. F. Miller, agent in charge of the local express office, who declares it is significant that the American Railway Express Company is preparing for a heavy movement of express traffic during the remainder of this month and April.

Fluctuation in the express business, according to Mr. Miller, usually precedes like changes in general business by several weeks. The express people are confident that business resumption is near at hand. At their New York office it is stated that an unusual number of buyers have visited New York city recently and that most concerns have a full corps of traveling salesmen on the road.

The express company is getting ready for a return of the small package business, and the first two months of the year showed a noticeable increase in this traffic.

As the first step in the preparation made for business increase, the express company is experimenting with steel collapsible packing trunks, which are expected to give even greater protection from crushing, soiling, damage by moisture and pilfering of all small shipments. In addition to this, the carrier has purchased 1,000 packing trunks, which are used, not only for protective purposes, but also to save handling of shipments, and to facilitate direct routing of traffic between specific points.

A study of the express business in 1921 shows that the American Railway Express handled 189,931,829 shipments.

The express carrier employs 20,000 motor and horse-drawn vehicles throughout the country, and these comprise 14,000 single and double wagons, 1,947 electric motor trucks, 2,000 gasoline motor trucks and 3,000 sleighs. It operates 50,000 platform trucks at the various railroad depots throughout the country.

The company has a force of 125,000 employees and offices in 28,000 cities and towns. It operates over practically all the principal railroads of the United States, with a total of 275,000 miles.

An old proverb says, "Show your hand upon your tongue." Simple advice, it seems, yet it contains the secret of modern progress. Attention today centers about the great problem of saving human labor by mental thought. To claim a place in present-day civilization, we must combine ourselves to thinking and the best way of doing things. The great enemy to progress of this kind, the thing that holds back our mental ability, is mental

ROAMER
America's Smartest Car
Makes America's Fastest Mile

Has your car broken six world's records? In purring along the boulevard or spurning the dust on the open road there is whole-souled satisfaction in driving a car proclaimed officially as America's fastest car. In less than six minutes a Roamer stock chassis at Daytona Beach lowered six world's records for every distance from a kilometer to five miles. Now this same type of chassis is offered you—in either speedster or 4-passenger model.

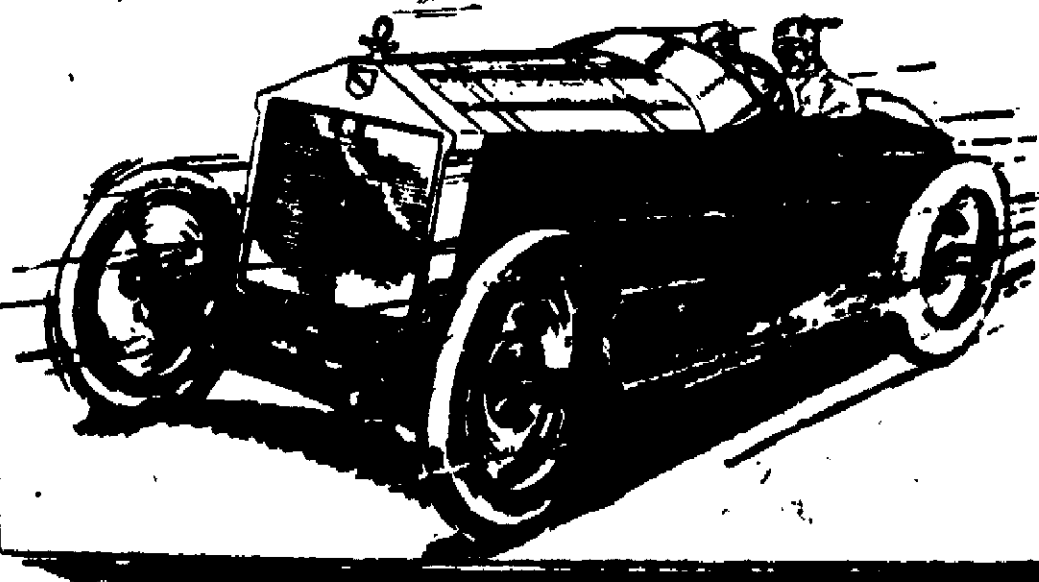

The man who is not content with the ordinary in a motor car—whether it is speed, roadability, comfort or dependability—will find the Roamer built for his requirements. It is always a pleasure to demonstrate the merits of the Roamer in any test you may ask.

HOW the cost of building quality tires has been brought down to the lowest level in history was explained by H. B. Firestone, President of the Company, to the stockholders at the annual meeting on December 15, 1921.

1. All inventories and commitments at or below the market.
2. Increased manufacturing efficiency and volume production reduced factory overhead 53%.
3. Selling costs reduced 26%.

Mr. Firestone stated, "This reduction in prices is made possible by our unusually advantageous buying facilities, and the enthusiasm, loyalty and determination of our 100% stockholding organization."

"Due credit must be given to Firestone dealers who are selling Firestone tires on a smaller margin of profit. This brings every Firestone saving direct to the car owner."

The saving through first cost plus the saving through high mileage doubles Firestone economy and is daily adding new fame to the Firestone principle of service—

SECOND ORATORIO AT HOLY CROSS

The second of the series of oratorios being given at Holy Cross Church will be sung Sunday afternoon at four o'clock by the large mixed choir, Miss Edith Mayer, contralto; Mrs. A. C. Kohl, soprano; Herman La Tour, tenor; Clifford D. Moore, baritone, and Harry Clearwater, basso being the participating soloists. The cantata has as its theme the farewell visit of Jesus Christ to the home of His friends living at Bethany, Mary, Martha, and Lazarus, and the immediate subsequent happenings. "The Last Night at Bethany" was composed by C. Lee Williams, one time organist of Gloucester Cathedral, and sung first at the Gloucester Musical Festival in 1889. It is characterized, both in music and words, by great delicacy of treatment.

The regular office of vespers will be read before the hour set for the cantata, so the complete program will be as follows:

Prelude—Benediction DuBois
"The Last Night at Bethany" C. Lee Williams

Organ Introduction
Chorus—"Sweet Lord and Saviour"
Recitative—"Behold I Stand"
Mr. Clearwater.

Chorus—"Sweet Promise of a Heaven Below"

FOOD FOR THE FAMILY

For variety serve chicken in the following way:

Chicken a la King.—Take two cupfuls of cooked chicken, four fresh mushrooms, one tablespoonful of butter, one-fourth of a green pepper, one cupful of thin cream, one cupful of chicken broth, three tablespoonfuls of flour, one-half teaspoonful of salt, one-fourth of a teaspoonful of paprika, one teaspoonful of lemon juice. Cut the chicken into cubes, break the mushrooms caps and cut the stems; chop the green pepper; add the cream and chicken stock, and two egg yolks. Cook the mushrooms and pepper in the butter, add the flour, then combine with the other ingredients. Serve on toast garnished with parsley.

Jelly Omelet.—Separate the whites and yolks of two eggs; beat the whites until stiff the yolks until creamy. Put a teaspoonful of butter in an omelet pan; when hot pour in the omelet after mixing the yolks with the whites, adding two tablespoonfuls of milk and a dash of cayenne and salt. Cook until the omelet is set; cover with a hot lid to dry out the top or place in the oven. Spread one side with jelly and fold as usual. Serve hot on a hot platter.

Steamed Bread.—Butter stale bread and steam until well heated through; spread again with butter and spread with raspberry jam, or canned berries of any kind. Serve individually with cream and sugar.

A dessert which will keep and one that will be liked is prepared as follows: Take two eggs well beaten; add one-half cupful of sugar, four tablespoonfuls of flour, one teaspoonful of baking powder and one cupful of nut meats with one cupful of finely-cut dates. Bake in a sheet, cut in finger-sized pieces and put into a glass jar. Steam when wanted, sprinkle with lemon juice and serve with cream.

There are so many useful and easy to handle cleaning cloths than those made from knitted underwear or cutting flannel garments.

SAMSONVILLE.

Samsonville, March 23.—Mrs. W. G. Moore visited her sister, Mrs. Noah Barringer, on Tuesday last. Myron and Albert Myers and William Peck attended the prayer meeting at J. D. Beesmer's.

Walter Palmer called at Ass Barringer's on Sunday morning. On last Wednesday evening Mr. and Mrs. Horace Myers entertained a party of young people to celebrate the birthday of their eldest son, Myron H. The evening was spent with singing, music and playing games. Refreshments of cake, coffee, maple sugar, nuts and candy were served besides the birthday cake with its lighted candles. The guests departed in the early hours of the morning, delighted with their royal entertainment and wishing Myron many more happy birthdays.

Mr. and Mrs. James Burgher of West Shokan spent Sunday night with their uncle, Freeman Every.

Frank Beesmer of Tivoli called in this place on Sunday.

Mrs. Grover Winchell spent the week end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Elting Brodhead, at Kerhonkson.

Floyd Shurtler of Olive Bridge called on his mother, Mrs. Libbie Shurtler, on Friday evening.

Frank Pelen spent a few days last week at his home in Cornwall. Many people are suffering with colds.

Mrs. H. G. Davis of West Shokan is recovering from pneumonia. Mrs. Moore visited there last Sunday and found her able to sit up.

Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Myers and children went to Newburgh on Saturday to visit Mr. and Mrs. Warren C. Edgar and little son, Craig Horace.

Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Shurtler and Virgil Shurtler and Irwin Barringer spent Tuesday in Kingston.

Mr. and Mrs. Abram Kelder of Rosendale motored to this place on Friday and spent the day with J. W. Kelder.

Frank Pelen has returned to Montgomery.

The Ride-a-Wee entertained company from out of town over Sunday. Grant Smith and brother, Ray, of Hurley spent one day last week with their father, Charles E. Smith.

William Oakley, Stephen Vandemark and Harold Davis of Krumville called at J. W. Kelder's Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Harland Kelder left for their new home in Kerhonkson on Monday.

HIGH WOODS.

High Woods, March 22.—The Rev. Mr. Kerr will conduct divine worship at Mount Marion and High Woods, next Sunday, at Mount Marion, 10:30 a. m. High Woods, 2 p. m. Subject of sermon, "The great wisdom of God's way of reaching man through his will."

The Rev. Mr. Kerr and wife are invited to take dinner with Mr. and Mrs. John Osterhoudt next Sunday.

The Rev. V. D. Mattie and wife, and the Rev. Kerr and wife are arranging to attend the New York Methodist Conference, that is to be held in Poughkeepsie next week. The trip will be made in Mr. Kerr's auto.

Now is the Time to Get Rid of These Ugly Spots.

Do you know how easy it is to remove those ugly spots so that no one will call you freckle-face?

Simply get an ounce of Othine—double strength, from your druggist and a few applications should show you how easy it is to rid yourself of freckles and get a beautiful complexion. The sun and winds of March have a strong tendency to bring out freckles, and as a result more Othine is sold in this month. Be sure to ask for the double strength Othine, as this is sold under guarantee of money back if it fails to remove the freckles.—Advertisement.

FULL ALUMINUM

Do you appreciate the full significance of that type of construction in a closed car? If you did you would never consider a closed car unless the body were full aluminum.

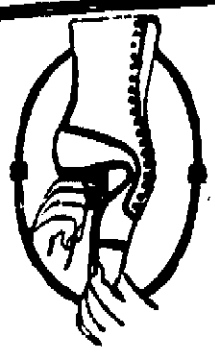

If you know the difference between a custom built aluminum constructed body and any other body, compare the Reo closed bodies at the automobile show with any other.

The inherent quality of Reo is plainly obvious at a glance; built from those sound, fundamental principles of engineering, which have been strictly adhered to throughout the history of Reo manufacture.

We do not believe that a pretty picture, or extravagant claims, or clever phraseology, stand for quality or worth in a motor car.

But we do believe in those sound business principles of manufacture and the unequalled record that Reo has been universally accorded over seventeen consecutive years of conscientious endeavor to build a motor car, which could not be excelled in value.

See our exhibit at Auto Show including New Aluminum 1-passenger Coupe before paint is applied or car is upholstered.

Grow Young in Cantilever Shoes

What man or woman, reaching the age of wisdom, would not discard a dozen years of physical progress—and lose none of the mental richness gathered in years of struggling existence? For a woman, it takes more than a paint box and lip stick to do it.

Foot troubles, and the physical impairment that often proceeds from wearing harmful shoes, makes their mark—not altogether where some but a doctor can see it, but on the face where everyone can see it. We believe women will be interested in this letter from a lady in Canada:

"I feel fully ten years younger today than I did Saturday. Do you know why? I've had on my new Cantilever Shoes all day long and feel so comfortable. I even feel like singing."

THEY BRING HAPPINESS

They do bring joy, Cantilever shoes. They seem so perfectly suited to one's foot. Flexible, light, well made, good looking, they help you, comfort you, lighten your step. The Cantilever shank contains no hidden metal. It flexes when you walk, harmonizes with the arch of your foot which Nature designed to flex with every step. The Cantilever flexible arch, supports restfully and healthfully; instead of restraining and weakening the foot it permits muscular exercise and circulation, which strengthens. So you avoid, or correct, weak arches. Dr. Douglas Stewart of New York says, "The foot is a cantilever spring." Surely that needs a flexible shoe—not a rigid one.

Keep your feet in trim. The spring of eternal youth which Ponce de Leon sought, may have been the spring of Cantilever Shoes!

Excellent quality, reasonable prices. We are the sole agents for Cantilever Shoes in this city.

AN OVERFLOW NASH EXHIBIT

Beside the two models of the Cadillac car which they are showing at the automobile show in the armory, the Ulster Garage, Ltd., has on exhibition at their show rooms, 267-269 Fair street, twelve models of the Nash car for which they have the agency. On account of limited space at the armory all models of the Nash car will be shown at the salesrooms where beside the 12 models of completed cars there will also be on exhibition a cut-out show chassis of the Nash-Six. This cut-out chassis is handsomely painted and nickel plated, presenting an exceptionally fine appearance beside exposing all of the working parts of the car. For those who desire to see the Nash car after visiting the automobile show at the armory the Ulster Garage, Ltd., will provide cars to convey people from the armory to their show rooms on Fair street.

WORK BEGUN ON NEW PACKARD STATION

Work was started Tuesday on the new Packard home at the head of Broadway. Sutliff, Inc., local distributors for the Packard car, will erect a modern show-room and service station on the site which when completed will be one of the most up-to-date show rooms and service stations along the river. Clarence Van Aken has the contract and expects to have the building ready about June first. Until that time Sutliff, Inc., will occupy their present temporary quarters on Broadway.

To Hold Examinations Again.

The civil service commission invites special attention to the fact that in examinations held recently in Poughkeepsie, N. Y., and other cities throughout the United States for junior engineer, junior physicist, junior technologist, in the bureau of standards, computer, in the Coast and Geodetic Survey, and domestic science teacher, in the Indian service, applicants were not secured in the number desired, and that these examinations will again be held. The first three named will be given on May 17 and the last two on April 26. Persons interested in these or other examinations should apply to the secretary of the U. S. Civil Service Board at the local post office for detailed information and application blanks.

TOWNS BUYING ROAD MACHINERY

Cannot Share in State Aid And Money Unless They Are in Position To Make Durable Improvements.

A special town election will be held in the town of Marlborough next Monday, March 28, to vote on a proposition to buy a roller and crusher for the town. The town of Hurley will hold a special election on Tuesday, April 4, to vote on a proposition to buy a crusher, Hurley already having a roller.

The ownership of sufficient equipment for highway purposes has become more important to towns under the highway laws now in force than it was under the old system and the necessity of towns equipping themselves properly in order to share in the highway funds was explained fully at the recent conference held by officials of the highway with town superintendents and other town officials at the court house in this city.

Under the Lowman act which now governs highway moneys, the county raises money to build permanent roads, the state contributing an equal amount to that raised by the county. But this money cannot be used in any town which does not own sufficient equipment, especially a crusher and roller.

The old method of distributing the automobile money among the towns has been discarded and this money now goes in the general fund which can be used for permanent highway improvement. Formerly it was the custom of some towns to use the automobile money to scrape the roads and heap the mud in the center of the roadway, where it was quickly pulverized by vehicles or washed into ditches by the first heavy rainstorm. The highway department will no longer countenance such makeshifts at road "improvement," but now requires that both its own funds and county highway moneys shall be used in permanent improvement. Only the towns which are equipped with proper machinery can participate in these moneys, however.

Most of the towns of Ulster county have been buying road equipment. Those which do not own equipment of the proper character are not in a position to ask for aid of any kind.

CUPID HAVING A SLACK SEASON

Whether it is the housing shortage, high rents or the high cost of living is not known, but the fact remains that young Dan Cupid is having an off season in Kingston this year. Since the first of January but 32 marriage licenses have been issued, which is something unusual.

In other years the city clerk on an average issued one license to wed a day. Some folks believe that the sudden drop in marriages is due to the prevailing style of short skirts and painted faces, and that not until styles get back to normal will the average young man be tempted into matrimony.

HALL MAKES WORLD'S RECORD FOR INDOOR POLO.

The fact that Alton Parker Hall is the captain of the Princeton University polo team, which won the intercollegiate indoor polo championship in an overwhelming victory over Yale on Saturday, is a matter of much local pride in Kingston. The final game had resolved itself down to Princeton and Yale, and took place in Squadron A Armory, one of the largest indoor pavilions in the United States, resulting in a score of 10½ goals for Princeton to ½ goal for Yale. The great feature of the game was the amazing work of Captain Hall, whose individual score was 10 goals out of the 10½ made by his team. When the individual trophies were presented Captain Hall was informed that his score established a new world's record for indoor polo.

GRAND JURY FINDS PLENTY OF BUSINESS

The grand jury in attendance at the present term of supreme court is still in session having investigated a large number of matters brought before it by District Attorney Frederick G. Traver during the three weeks it has been holding sessions. It is not expected to finish its labors this week, although an effort has been made to make a report to the court on Friday afternoon.

Our Growing Population.

Finer in All Ways Lower in Cost

Hudson's long leadership of fine car sales has always rested on value. Today you get the best Super-Six and greatest value Hudson ever offered.

With the Hudson + Passenger Phaeton now selling at $1695 and the 7-Passenger Phaeton at $1745 what do you find elsewhere that is comparable in worth.

And Hudson values endure. The Super-Six, even when old, retains the performance and reliability that so distinguish it among all cars.

It stays out of the repair shop. It requires little attention. It seems never to wear out. It can easily and cheaply be restored to its new like condition. It has kept this proof before the public so long that people accept it as they do any other certainty. You daily see Hudsons more than six years old, many serving beyond their hundred-thousandth mile, and still rendering satisfactory, regular duty, modern in appearance, smooth, quiet and efficient.

Its present day sales leadership is natural because of its value and its price.

A New ESSEX '1095

Roomier, Finer Looking and Smoother in Action

Greater beauty, comfort and riding ease are striking characteristics you will notice in the new touring model of the Essex.

Seats are wider, giving more comfortable accommodation to passengers. Wider doors, admit freer entry and exit. New type oil-cups, quickly and cleanly filled, replace bothersome, messy grease cups.

These are a few of the things, which, in addition to the improved Essex chassis, make the present model the finest Essex has produced.

Its price attraction is unequalled.

One thing the good Lord may do occasionally, but certainly does not do very often, is to combine in one of His creatures a brain of the highest quality and a voice of great carrying power.—Ohio State Journal.

TANNERSVILLE VOTES TO BOND

The village of Tannersville on Tuesday voted in favor of a proposition to bond the village for $38,000 under the general village law to pay for the village's share of a twenty-four foot concrete highway through the village.

The new concrete highway will be constructed in connection with a concrete highway which will be built by the state between Tannersville and Hunter. Under a vote already taken, the concrete highway through Hunter village will be twenty feet wide and a $12,000 bond issue to pay for the additional width through the village has been authorized. The concrete highway between Tannersville and Hunter, a distance of five miles, will be sixteen feet in width.

FINAL GAME AT SHANDEGNOX HALL

The final game of the basketball season at Shandegnox Hall, Allaben, will be played Saturday evening, March 25th, and for this occasion the Phoenix A. A. Five has been scheduled to meet the famous Triangles of Kingston. The Kingston boys are out for revenge inasmuch as they lost a 14 to 12 decision at the Phoenixia court earlier in the season.

The Phoenixia line up will be composed of Johnson, Townsend, Merrihew, Simpson, Gross, Ennist and Yerry and while the Triangles line up has not been announced it is assumed that their team will be selected from Robins, Dolson, Deegan, Wood, Murray and Spalt. In addition to being the two best teams to appear at the Shandegnox Hall this season both teams are very popular and a record attendance is expected. Referee Cassidy will call play promptly at 8:30 and after the game there will be a dance, music by Beeher's orchestra of Kingston.

John D. Rockefeller, Jr., reputed to be the world's richest man, is shown here watching President Harding "coming in" on the sixteenth hole of the golf links at Ormond Beach, Fla., where Rockefeller lives in winter and where the nation's chief executive is spending a brief vacation. The multimillionaire was on the sixth hole, going out, when this photo was taken.

Eyes Hurt?

Perhaps you've strained them with too much reading, study or work. Do your eyes burn, smart, run water, look red and inflamed? Do not neglect them, for that may lead to serious trouble. Simple rest glasses may be all you need. Consult us at once.

WHAT IS OFFERED AT THE THEATERS.

An entirely new program of Keith vaudeville comprising five acts and a thrilling action picture Tom Mix in "Sky High," is the offering at the Opera House this evening.

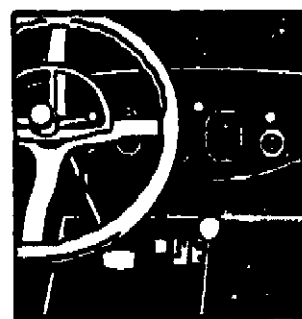

"The Great Impersonation," starring James Kirkwood and an excellent supporting cast is the feature at Keener's today and the balance of the week. "The Great Impersonation" is from the pen of E. Phillips Oppenheim and is a gripping story of dual personality. At the Auditorium this evening Naomi Childers in "Courage" will be the featured attraction with a Harold Lloyd comedy added.

"Hearts and Masks," a thrilling story of the great west, will be shown tonight at the Colonial Theater. There will also be a comedy and news reels.

Demonstrate Ford Truck Body.
On Friday and Saturday the Universal Road Machinery Company of this city will give a demonstration outside the Armory of the new automatic dump body for Ford trucks, one of which it has just sold for use on the truck owned by the town of Ulster.

Stars in Daylight.
Photographs of stars taken to the sixth magnitude can be taken in broad daylight. If the photographs are taken through a deep red screen, the stars appear with distinctness. Important results are expected from experiments.

MEN who have driven the Packard Single-Six for many months now, say that its performance is without equal in their experience. They especially like its activity and smart response, the ease of its control, and the sure and easy way it sweeps up the steepest hill and rolls through the roughest going. They have found, too, that the Single-Six is especially sparing of gasoline and good for seventeen miles or better to the gallon.

Ride in the Single-Six for an hour or so. Better yet, get behind the steering wheel. Ask of it what you will. You will find that the Single-Six is a Packard through and through.

Sheets and towels spotlessly clean

Shelves piled high with sheets and towels and table cloths, fragrant as only perfectly clean clothes can be. There is no greater satisfaction—yet every housekeeper knows what it has meant in time and strength to keep her supply fresh and clean.

But now, just by soaking in this new kind of soap, the heavy clumsy pieces—so hard to manage on the washboard—are spotlessly clean.

Big, lasting suds with greater cleansing power

Use enough Rinso to give big, lasting suds, and even the most ground-in dirt will be so loosened that a light rubbing with dry Rinso will make it disappear.

Rinso is such a perfectly balanced soap—so rich in pure ingredients; it does what soap has never done before. It loosens all the dirt without weakening a single thread.

Rinso is made by the largest soap makers in the world. Get Rinso today at grocery and department stores. Lever Bros. Co., Cambridge, Mass.

Rinso does the weekly wash as wonderfully as Lux does fine things.
